COOLIDGE STATEMENT PUZZLE TO POLITICIANS

LINDBERGH FLIES OVER CITY THIS AFTERNOON

Thousands Here See Aviator On Pittsburgh Trip

Colonel Charles Lindbergh And 'Spirit Of St. Louis'' Reach Pittsburgh.

WILL SPEAK AT PITT STADIUM

Banquet In William Penn Hotel Tonight To Honor New York To Paris Flier.

Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh in the "Spirit of St. Louis" circled the city of New Castle at 1:15 p. m. today and then piloted his silver-colored plane 50 feet above the business houses in East Washington street and when it appeared as though the "Spirit of St. Louis" would crash into the steeple of the First Christian church, Lindbergh "pulled the stick" and the plane rose majestically and cleared the steeple by a scant 25 feet while hundreds of persons stood thrilled with Lindbergh's daring.

While "We" flew over the diamond Lindbergh dropped a message contained in a poke which was caught by H. A. Lindholm of Maple Springs, N. Y., who is stopping at the Fountain Inn. A long string of ribbon also was dropped from "The Spirit of St. Louis" and as it fluttered to the ground a score of young lads rushed and in the scramble to secure a trophy they tore the ribbons into pieces, each carrying away a souvenir of "We" and his visit to New Castle.

The message which was caught by Lindholm was addressed to the citizens of New Castle and signed in ink personally by Charles A. Lindbergh. The message said that the "Spirit of St. Louis" found it impossible to land at New Castle owing to the limited time he had to make his trip to Pittsburgh, but expressed his gratification with the manner in which citizens here sponsor aviation and said that this appreciation is cherished.

Lindbergh the idol of the United States, who made the non-stop flight from New York to Paris, flew over New Castle via Hillsville and within

McIntyre May Be Suffering From Injuries In War

John E. McIntyre held here by the police on the charge of passing checks on the Lawrence Savings and Trust Company Bank, in which he had no funds, is believed by the police authorities to be the victim of injuries sustained during the World War and an effort is now being made to have him placed in one of the government hospitals for observation and treatment.

This is not the first time that he has passed such checks and every so often he has been known to do this since returning from the World War. He saw service in France and was wounded also probably gassed.

The checks passed totaled $126.64. He received some goods and some cash. Some of the checks, one in particular for $40, was passed on a local business house; with the name of the Union Trust Company scratched from the check and no other name written or substituted on it.

They were all passed on Sunday and Monday of this week. Another had $8.39 in figures and $8.89 written on it.

The police take this opportunity of again calling the attention of people of this city to the fact that it is a mistake to ever cash a check for a stranger or any person concerning whom there might be the least doubt.

Survey Of Air Route Completed

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—The Survey of the Chicago-Twin Cities air route has been completed, the commerce department announced today.

Plans and specifications for installation of intermediate landing fields and lights between Chicago and Lacrosse have been prepared and work will begin at once.

The route follows the main trunk line of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad.

The distance is 384 miles, of which 270 miles will be lighted. There will be nine intermediate fields, of which six will be lighted, twenty revolving searchlights of 2,000,000 candle power each will be installed.

Former Secretary Of New Castle Trade Board To Wed Widow Of Former Secretary

The many friends of Mrs. Grace King Stevenson and William Kennedy, former residents of this city, will learn with great interest and surprise, of the announcement of their engagement, which will terminate in a wedding October 22 in the Church of Ascension, Chicago.

Mr. Kennedy will be remembered here as the genial and efficient secretary of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce, then known as the Board of Trade, and during the World War period. He is is at present located at Camden, N. J., where he has been secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of that city for the past five years and where he has made a great success.

Mrs. Stevenson will be remembered as the widow of the late P. K. Stevenson. In this connection, the rather interesting coincident is noted, in that both Mr. Kennedy and Mr. Stevenson were at one time secretaries of the local Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Stevenson has been making her home for the past year with her sister, Mrs. S. R. Albright, 5021 Glenwood avenue, Chicago.

Following the wedding on October 22, Mr. Kennedy and his bride will go to Columbus, O., where he will attend the national convention of secretaries of Chambers of Commerce of the United States.

Returning to Camden, they will take up their residence in the newly furnished home in Winona, one of the most beautiful suburbs of Camden.

Spirited Contest For Legion Commander To Feature 9th Conclave

(International News Service)

YORK, Pa., Aug. 3. — By road and by rail, thousands of members and guests of the American Legion in Pennsylvania poured into York today, a colorful invading peace time army of revelers, to be on hand tomorrow for the opening of the ninth annual conclave of the Department of Pennsylvania.

York was gay with color, the Legion banners and the American flag floating from every store and home. Except for a few rooms in the larger hotels, reserved for the accommodation of transients, every available lodging accommodation in the city has been reserved for Legionnaires and by this evening the majority of the rooms will have been filled.

Chief among subjects being discussed in the scores of impromptu conclaves and reunions which take place in every hotel and on almost every street corner is the impending fight for the office of State Commander. The election is expected to be the most spirited in the Pennsylvania Department's history.

Lieut. Frank Schoble, Vice Commander of Coates-Jordan Post, No. 163, of Jenkintown, is endorsed as a candidate by the Ninth District, Department of Pennsylvania, comprising Bucks and Montgomery counties. Schoble is known throughout Pennsylvania as the "Blind Legionnaire." He lost his sight in the battle of the Argonne, and on his return to Amer-

Former Chicora Man Killed In Overturn Of Auto In Indiana

BUTLER, Pa., Aug. 3.—Charles Norris, aged 34, of Hammond, Ind., formerly of Chicora, was killed and his wife was injured in an automobile accident which occurred at Gary, Ind., according to word received late yesterday afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Norris of Chicora, his parents.

Charles Norris and his family, including his wife and four children, left their Hammond home by automobile on a trip to Chicora, where they expected to spend two weeks with Mr. Norris' parents. They had been here last summer over the Fourth of July holidays.

According to word received by Chicora relatives, the Norris car was struck by another automobile and was forced over an embankment at Gary. Mr. Norris was pinned underneath the wrecked car and was burned to death in the fire that followed the crash. Mrs. Norris had her collarbone broken and received a deep gash on her head. Ten stitches were required to close the cut. None of the children were hurt.

The body is being brought to the home of Mr. Norris' parents at Chicora, accompanied by Mrs. Norris and the children.

Two Massachusetts Women In Shenango Valley Hospital

Driver Loses Control Of Auto When Front Tire Blows Out

Mrs. Elmira DeFrancis and Miss Lena Bruenette, both of Lawrence, Mass., are confined in the Shenango Valley hospital as the result of injuries sustained in an auto accident Tuesday afternoon on the Wilmington road.

Mrs. DeFrancis suffered a fractured arm and Miss Bruenette had a number of lacerations about her face. The driver was not injured.

The party were enroute to New Castle when one of the front balloon tires on the car blew out and the driver lost control of the machine. The auto ran into a culvert but fortunately did not overturn. The occupants were thrown against the side of the car causing painful injuries.

Pennsylvania Woman Will Celebrate 101 Years Of Her Life

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 3.—Mrs. Mary A. Knapp, Montgomery Square, Pa., will be 101 years old tomorrow.

Mrs. Knapp anounced she will celebrate her anniversary quietly in her garden and old Colonial house, a relic of pre-Revolutionary days which even antedates her birth.

The property once belonged to George Preston Moore, close friend of George Washington, who is said to have been Preston's guest during the Valley Forge campaign.

Mrs. Knapp was born on a farm near Baileyville, Centre county. Her mother lived to be 96, and one of her mother's sisters passed the century mark by 11 months.

Pellagra Peril New Menace To Flood District

Dreaded Disease Follows In Wake Of Recent Mississippi River Flood.

ASK GOVERNMENT TO COOPERATE

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—The peril of pellagra has appeared in the flood swept lower Mississippi, according to reports to the U. S. public health service.

The Mississippi state board of health asked the government to cooperate in the fight against the disease, said to be due chiefly to bad or insufficient food.

Brewers yeast, virtually forgotten since prohibition, is a preventative and cure of pellagra, according to Assistant Surgeon General C. C. Pierce. Good fresh food is another essential preventative.

The public health service and other federal and state agencies operating in the flood zone, are expected to cooperate with the Red Cross in the effort to meet the demands for better food for the flood victims.

Emery's Death Was Accidental Jury's Verdict

Witnesses Tell Of Accident In Which Lyle G. Emery Was Fatally Injured.

STRUCK BY REAR END OF MACHINE

Driver, Warren Farrow, Says That Mr. Emery Stepped In Front Of Car.

Coroner's jury investigating the case of Lyle G. Emery, who died as a result of injuries sustained on July 25, when struck by the automobile driven by Warren Farrow, last night, after hearing testimony of a number of witnesses, returned a verdict of "unavoidable accident."

While none of the witnesses examined had seen the actual contact of the machine with Mr. Emery, there were a number who saw Mr. Emery as he was falling after being struck by the machine. There was one witness who had noticed the automobile driven by Farrow before the accident occurred and who thought that the machine was traveling at a considerable rate of speed. The testimony of Farrow was to the effect that he was going about 20 miles an hour and close to the curb and that when Mr. Emery stepped out in front of his machine at Marshall avenue, that he did everything in his power to prevent an accident.

There was nothing in the evidence submitted, the jury found in rendering its verdict, that would indicate that Farrow had failed to do anything to avoid the accident, which resulted in the death of Mr. Emery.

Coroner J. P. Caldwell presided at the inquest, which was held at the office of Alderman L. C. Mantz, and did some of the questioning of the witnesses.

Attorney T. W. Dickey, who appeared for the commonwealth in the absence from the city of District Attorney J. Elder Bryan, did most of the questioning of the witnesses for the commonwealth, while Attorney Samuel L. McCracken, who represented Farrow, did most of the cross examining and was in charge of the questioning of Farrow when he was placed on the street. Attorney A. Martin Graham, representative of the automobile owner, took part in the examination of the witnesses as the occasion demanded.

The members of the jury were Frew Book, H. K. Bell, L. B. McAnaney, Charles W. Haus, T. E. Ganoe and R. E. Cage.

Mrs. W. R. Kehna of 1114 East Washington street, was the first witness examined. She testified that she did not see Mr. Emery struck by the car. She was seated in the porch swing at her residence sewing. She heard the brakes of an automobile make a terrible screeching sound and looking up saw a man apparently falling toward the curb from the fender of an automobile. It looked as if it was at the front fender of the car. She did not hear the horn

Many Candidates Ready To Accept Highest Office

Lowden, Dawes, Borah, Wadsworth, Hoover, Longworth And Other Aspirants.

SOME ALREADY HAVE AN ORGANIZATION

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—There was great speculation here today over the reasons that actuated President Coolidge in making his announcement that he did not "choose to run for President in 1928", at this particular time.

Even those who have preferred to believe that he would not be a candidate next year did not expect him to make an announcement prior to the assembly of congress.

By merely remaining silent and permitting the country to believe he was a receptive candidate Mr. Coolidge was choking the efforts of other candidates, and was preventing organization of their movements on any formidable scale. The Lowden organization has been proceeding under severe difficulties merely because of this continued silence, and the Hoover movement has hardly got started, except in a sub-rosa way.

Republican leaders in Washington confessed themselves in the dark today as to why the President should have cast his political bombshell at this particular time. Some of them deplore it from the standpoint that it will lessen his influence with the oncoming congress. The average party member, it was pointed out, will be less amenable to White House discipline and the party whip with an occupant of the White House who has disavowed his candidacy for re-

Opinions Differ As To What Is Meant By Word

Does "Choose" Mean He Wants To Retire Or That He's Passive Candidate.

WIRES KEPT HOT AT BLACK HILLS

Observers Strive To Ascertain Fundamental Reason For Decision.

By GEORGE E. DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

RAPID CITY, S. D., Aug. 3.—Twelve little words today were stirring up more political turmoil than the nation has known in a decade.

"I do not choose to run for President in Nineteen Twenty-eight."

How are these all-significant words of Calvin Coolidge to be taken? Do they mean he earnestly desires to retire from the field of 1928 Presidential possibilities? Do they mean he would prefer to strike a passive attitude and be "drafted" for the office? Is any importance to be attached to the employment of the phrase "do not choose" rather than "will not?"

These questions today were foremost on the tongues of every politician within telegraph range of the temporary White House here in the Black Hills. No answer with the essence of unanimity has yet been received. The men who guide or pretend to guide the destinies of the Republican party seem to be completely at sea over the terse announcement of the President that he does "not choose" to be a candidate to re-election. The announcement was a bomb-shell in every sense of the word and no two opinions coincided.

From noon yesterday when the executive made the announcement that apparently effaced himself from the national political field next year, on through last evening and beginning again this morning, long distance telephone calls and telegrams literally deluged the temporary executive offices, each for the purpose of expressing an opinion on Mr. Coolidge's statement.

According to White House attaches a number of telephone calls and telegrams came from Wall Street, New York, and the financial districts of other large Eastern cities urging the President to discontinue his attitude and be a candidate for re-election as had been confidently expected.

Many of these calls and wires warned the executive that despite the fact he had timed his announcement yesterday to come after the close of the market, it nevertheless would upset today's opening "almost as much as word of the death of a president."

In equal numbers came messages

Old Omar Khyaam said it first, a loaf of bread a jug of wine and thou, but folks express it differently in language of today, and how. A loaf of bread, oh never mind, a hot dog and a pretty maid, a jug of wine, well hardly that, a glass of sparkling lemonade. Instead of being underneath the bow of which old Omar spake the modern youth is underneath a hot dog canopy and things are jake. What would he with a loaf of bread, he does not want it in his car, and should he take a jug of wine, John Law steps in ere he goes far. And so he takes his lemonade, a pretty maiden at his arm, content to sit and sip and flirt, at some resort or on a farm. Old Omar had his own queer tastes, but as I have remarked before, the jug of wine is stricken out, today, the weather is seventy-four.

Flyers Bring 3 New Airports To New England

Visits Of Lindbergh, Byrd And Others Give Impetus To Aviation Interest.

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Aug. 3.—Like a missionary in heathen lands, Colonel Charles A. Lindburgh, trans-Atlantic flying ace turned thousands of Bostonians to thoughts of aviation and the future that it holds for Boston, the leading city of New England.

Sweeping out of the skies in his silver plane, "Spirit of St. Louis," Colonel Lindbergh was followed closely by his greatest group of peacetime aviators the world had ever known. Commander Richard E. Byrd, Clarence Chamberlin, Lieutenant Albert Hegenberger of South Boston and Lieutenant Lester J. Maitland were here.

With one of the most stragetic airport sites on the Atlantic coast, development of the facilities of the port in this city are strongly urged by prominent men.

Curley Gets Busy

Among the advocates of aviation is ex-Mayor James M. Curley whose support for municipal projects has always placed him among Boston's most progressive men.

Great possibilities are in store for the Boston airport, the former mayor believes. The East Boston airport and land adjacent, extending to and including Governor's island, represents, when filled approximately 10,000,000 square feet, or slightly in excess of 222 acres. Development of the site as a result of interest created by Colonel Lindbergh, is possible, ex-Mayor Curley believes.

Upon this great area, extending a mile into the sea, ex-Mayor would erect fabricating plants with landing ports on the roofs for commercial aviation.

The erection of such plants at the airport site would give impetus to commercial aviation and the industry in general in New England, ex-Mayor Curley believes.

Throughout New England, public-spirited citizens following the attitude taken by the former Boston mayor have succeeded arousing the public sentiment to the extent that cities never before interested in aviation are today equipped with landing fields.

Portland Active

To Colonel Lindbergh goes most of the credit for the increased interest. An example of his influence was that of Portland, Me. Without a landing field, that city found that Colonel Lindbergh would necessarily have to leave it off his list of itinerary stops. Quickly city officials stepped in and acted. At Scarboro, six miles out of the city limits, a perfect field for landing was found. Within 24 hours, Portland acquired an airport.

Providence was similarly situated. Without a field in the city limits the city fathers found that Colonel Lindbergh was going to pass over their city without stopping. Quickly municipal strings were pulled and within a few hours the Quonset Point military reservation parade grounds became a city landing field and the visit of the blond Viking was assured.

Both Portland and Providence will maintain their new fields.

WASTE PAPER CONTAINER IS ON FIRE TUESDAY

Chief Charles H. Lynn answered a still alarm about 4:30 o'clock Tuesday to the corner of Mercer and East Washington streets. The contents of a waste paper container at that place was on fire and was put out in short order. It was evidently caused by some passerby throwing a match or cigaret in the container. The call was turned in by Officer Allgier.

OPINIONS DIFFER AS TO WHAT IS MEANT BY WORD

over the wires congratulating Mr. Coolidge on his statement on the ground he had "done the Government a real service" in that the no-third-term principle would not be violated.

And meanwhile, the first of the newspaper editorials trickled in. They too were as divided in opinion as is humanly possible. Some of the first papers to comment were of the opinion that "President Coolidge has not burned all his bridges" and could easily be drafted. Others were equally confident that there could be no quibbling about language and that the President had eliminated himself once and for all. The third group of thought was one of utter indecision wherein the unexpected announcement from the Summer White House was discussed pro and con with some weight thrown on the phraseology but no definite opinion expressed.

Perhaps the most concrete opinion offered was forthcoming from a United States Senator here on the ground.

"Whatever the intention, through use of words or otherwise," he said, "Presient Coolidge has reduced his chances of procuring the nomination by ninety per cent through yesterday's announcement. Even if he is making a play on words, it will be regarded generally as a definite withdrawal in a great number of quarters and other candidates will feel free to press their names for consideration at the next convention."

Political observers were still striving today to ascertain the fundamental reason back of the President's decision—particularly in view of the fact that politician after politician during the past few months had been credited with the statement that "Coolidge was a certainty," and could not be defeated. A number of reasons—such as genuine dislike of the Naval Conference at Geneva and others similar—have been advanced for the decision but each has been thrown down as strongly as it has been advanced. The men who undertake to make and break presidents are wondering what is the next step, and who's move is it?

election. Republican control of the new congress is shaky at best.

The same practical politicians who believe that Mr. Coolidge's disavowal of candidacy is in reality a bid for renomination also believes that it will be extremely difficult to renominate him after the country gets thoroughly saturated with his declaration. They point out that Mr. Coolidge has now extended an open invitation to all his rivals—Herbert Hoover, Frank O. Lowden, Charles G. Dawes, Wm. E. Borah, and others—to get into the race and there are few who believe the invitation will be ignored.

The net effect of the President's declaration was discussed and debated in Washington today wherever two or more politicians met. The concensus of opinion appeared to be that, irrespective of all other considerations, it will project the candidacies of Herbert Hoover, and Frank O. Lowden on the national screen with the shadows of Dawes, Borah, Wadsworth, Longworth and lesser figures lurking in the wings.

Gov. Lowden already has an organization functioning. Lowden-For-President clubs have been in progress of formation for months in many parts of the country, principally in the West. This work has proceeded even in the face of Mr. Coolidge's apparent intention of merely remaining silent and letting his friends renominate him. An enormous impetus will be given now to this Lowden movement, in the opinion of practical politicians here.

And Lowden is not the only dangerous potentiality. Republican leaders believe that a full-fledged movement in behalf of Herbert Hoover will burst forth before many weeks. The movement has been proceeding under-cover for many months anyway, but it could not be brought into the open because of Mr. Hoover's position in Mr. Coolidge's cabinet. Political observers have not forgotten that only a few weeks ago Mr. Hoover made a remark at Rapid City that was almost enigmatic as that of Mr. Coolidge yesterday.

Answering an inquiry about his own possible candidacy, Mr. Hoover observed that he was committed to Mr. Coolidge, and then added he was compelled to say that because of "my sense of loyalty."

73,000,000 Trees Planted In Year In Reforestation

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Great advance in forestry legislation was made during 1927, says the Forestry Legislative Survey published to mark the close of the legislative year by the American Tree Association.

The legislative year was made notable because by the passage of legislation Delaware, Florida and South Carolina took their places with forestry minded states. There are now 42 states that provide for some forestry organization. Utah, Wyoming, Arkansas and Nevada have not provided for any organization and the state forests of Arizona and New Mexico are cared for by a joint agreement with the U. S. forest service. Forestry legislation was passed for the first time in Nevada and Utah.

The survey which is being sent to editors and foresters by Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the American Tree Association, shows the present area of state forests to be 6,838,936 acres and that 73 million trees were planted during the year.

States that kept the lead in tree planting were Pennsylvania with 27,916,029. New York with 22,000,000 and Michigan with 10,000,000.

"The Mississippi river flood has directed the attention of the nation as nothing else could to the need of providing forests at the headquarters of the Mississippi and its tributaries," says Mr. Pack in announcing the publication of the survey. "This phase of flood prevention while it will not stop floods will aid in preventing them."

Colonel Lindbergh Leaves Cleveland On Trip To Pittsburgh

Famous Flier Will Soar Above Youngstown, O., On Way To Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, Aug. 3.—Contnuing his tour of the country in the "Spirit of St. Louis," Col. Charles A. Lindbergh first New York to Paris non-stop flier, took off from Brooc Park airport at 10:35 a. m. today for Pittsburgh. According to announced plans Lindbergh was to fly over Youngstown on his way to the Pennsylvania city.

Aviator Gassed Trying To Make Endurance Record

(International News Service)

DESSAU Germany, Aug. 3.—Pilot Herman Von Koehl was gassed and rendered unconscious today when a Junker plane which he was piloting in an attempt to set up a new endurance record made an emergency landing in a plowed field near here.

Two Junker planes started on endurance tests shortly after 5 a. m. today and the one piloted by Von Koehl was ordered down after four and a half hours of flying because it had been unable to properly rid itself of heavy landing gear. When the plane came down in a plowed field it was shaken severely and gas fumes were produced which affected the pilot.

The second plane attempting an endurance record is still n the air.

Coolidge Statement Causes Surprise In Berlin Politics

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Aug. 3.—President Coolidge's announcement that he does not choose to be a candidate for president next year was a startling surprise to Germany and caused a sensation here today.

German students of American politics expressed the belief that the main cause was the Fiasco of the Geneva conference with such secondary causes as the American tradition against a third term for presidents and the opposition of the farmers.

But it is believed here that the president's decision is not final, furthermore, it is hoped that the Coolidge statement will provoke the widest discussion in Geneva which would show the American people that the allies are unwilling to disarm.

Machinists Wanted At Local Y.M.C.A.

Jobs are rather scarce these days, it seems.

However, the employment agency of the local Y. M. C. A. has found that it is in need of machinists. Machinists who are jobless and desire to have work are asked to call at the local Y tomorrow morning between the hours of 8 a. m. and 12 noon. These jobs which are open to machinists who are experienced in jig and tool work are at a works in a near-by town.

Campbell, Anton Hansen, Thomas Gricks, John G. Nothdurft, John Alexander and Sam Leonard. Interment was made in Oak Park cemetery.

William Cosel Buys Out Local Business

William L. Cosel, well known young man of this city, has purchased the grocery and dairy product department of the National Market on East Washington street and has already assumed charge of the business. He will continue the business in the National Market place of business under the name of Cosel's Food and Dairy Shop. It is the intention of Mr. Cosel to greatly increase the scope of business and include a full line of cheese, fancy groceries and delicatessen or dainty table foodstuffs. He plans to make the store of special appeal to those seeking special and high class foodstuffs, not usually carried. It will be more or less of a new departure here and its success seems assured.

Brigadier General James Rhea Dies

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Aug. 3.—Brigadier General James C. Rhea, U. S. A. retired, former head of the citizens' military training camps in New England, died at his home today. He was a native of Iowa, was a West Point graduate, served in the Philippines and attended the general staff college at Fort Leavenworth.

Not Afraid Of Them Are You Goldberg?

Now that the police-fire department jangle has been settled on the baseball diamond there appears to be another argument sadly in need of settling. It is the one between the Rieck-McJunkin Company baseball team and the Buckeye Manufacturing Company.

For some weeks Henry Goldberg has been telling the boys down in front of the Leslie hotel that he had a real baseball team, to which Mike Fisher of the Buckeye has responded, "well why doesn't he play us"?

Mike modestly asserts that his team can knock the chocolate coat off the ice cream fed athletes, and says that the Buckeyes will play the Rieck team anytime, any place, for money marbles or mud.

Goldberg has not replied to this hot challenge and the assertion that he is afraid of the Bucks seems to have no little foundation.

EMERY'S DEATH WAS ACCIDENTAL JURY'S VERDICT

of the automobile sounded. She thought the automobile was located with its left hand wheels over the city bound street car line. A street car was stopped between Winslow avenue and Lathrop street. She thought the body of Mr. Emery was lying seven or eight feet from the corner of Marshall avenue. She saw the driver pull to the right hand side and go to the assistance of the injured man. She did not go to the scene. She was not sure of the distance that the car travelled after hitting Mr. Emery.

William Lennig, 1110 East Washington street, was seated on the front porch of his home. When he heard the screech of the brakes it was necessary for him to get up and look around a porch curtain. He saw an automobile stopped opposite his place and a man lying at the curb. The automobile, he thought, was probably 20 feet below the downtown side of Marshall avenue, and probably 70 feet from the point where Mr. Emery was struck. He ran up to the scene of the accident and assisted in carrying Mr. Emery to the office of Dr. Burchfield. Mr. Emery was lying with his head at the curb and toward the park. The clothing of Mr. Emery was covered with blood. The driver assisted in caring for Mr. Emery and was alone.

Griff Lewis, East Washington street barber, was seated in his barber shop in the rear of the Weingartner building, East Washington street and Marshall avenue, when he heard the screeching of the brakes. A little boy had just left and fearing that he might be in the path of an automobile he rushed out. He saw a crowd gathering at the corner of Marshall avenue and Washington street and went over. The driver of the car was assisting in caring for Mr. Emery, he said. The car was stopped between 60 and 70 feet from the point where Mr. Emery was struck, he asserted.

Warren Farrow, driver of the car, was then called. He showed his driver's license and stated he resided at 801 West State street. He stated he was employed at the Shenango tin plant and when not working there, was employed at the Cascade park cafeteria. It was about 1 o'clock, he stated, when the accident occurred. He was enroute to Wright's market in the car of the owner of the cafeteria to purchase supplies for the cafeteria and with the car owner's permission. He was driving about 20 miles an hour. He first saw Emery on the sidewalk. A street car enroute to the park had just passed him. He was running about six inches from the curb and Mr. Emery stepped out in front of the machine when it was but about six feet distant. He blew his horn, then swung to the left and then to the right, putting on his brakes, in an effort to avoid hitting Mr. Emery. The rear end of the car hit him. He went across Marshall avenue before stopping, knowing that it was against traffic rules to stop otherwise, then went back and helped pick up Mr. Emery and carry him to the office of a doctor. He stated that he had resided here six years, had been driving a car over a year, that the machine had two-wheel brakes and that the pavement was dry. Mr. Emery was lying about the length of his body out into the street, he stated, with his head to the curb.

J. V. Kaufman of 1226 East Washington street, an operator for the P. & O. company, stated that he was enroute home on a street car. He was at the front end of the car talking to the operator. He did not see Mr. Emery struck, but did see him fall over. He was of the opinion that the automobile was going pretty fast. Had seen it half a block away before it passed the street car. It was the screech of the automobile brakes that caused him to turn around and see the last of the accident. It seemed to him that Mr. Emery turned a flipflop as he fell backward. His feet were thrown into the air. He asked to have the car stopped and went back and assisted in caring for Mr. Emery. He was the first at the side of Mr. Emery and the driver and others were there soon after. He said on cross examination that he couldn't judge the speed at which the automobile was going. The automobile was probably two or three feet from the curb when it passed the street and as it approached the street car.

Harold Gill, brother-in-law of Mr. Emery, testified as to being with him at his death in the New Castle hospital.

Echoes Of Cattle War Are Heard At Farmers Meeting

(International News Service)

LANCASTER, Pa., Aug. 3.—Echoes of the recent York county "cattle war" in which farmers resisted efforts of state veterinarians to examine cattle for tuberculosis, and a similar episode in this county last year, were heard today following a meeting of the Farmers' Protective Association.

Speakers took the state police to task for presenting an "armed force" to resist the effort of the farmers who sought to drive attaches of the state department of animal husbandry from their property.

Lewis C. Creamer, president of the association, charged that during the recent near riots in Hopewell township, York county, a state trooper struck a farmer's wife, Mrs. Simon Ulrich of Stewartstown, who alleged she was the woman struck, also appeared on the platform.

WARREN FARROW TO BE GIVEN HEARING

AFTER COOLIDGE, WHO?

WITH his characteristic paucity of words, Calvin Coolidge, President of the United States has announced to the world that he will not be a candidate for re-election in 1928.

Brief as is the statement coming out of Rapid City, South Dakota, bare as it is of the underlying reasons for his decision, the announcement comes as a bombshell to the voters of the entire United States and will undoubtedly have the effect of stirring up the finest scramble for a nomination seen in many years.

For the past six months it has been repeatedly stated by supposedly well informed political prophets that Coolidge would be a candidate for re-election. The mythical "Whitehouse Spokesman" was quoted as having said that the president would seek another term and certain syndicated writers with reputations have declared unequivocally that there was no doubt of it. For proof of their statements they offered the trip to South Dakota as the overture of the western delegations for support.

And now President Coolidge has upset them with his terse announcement. Typical of him to be sure, but what a broil the next Republican convention promises to be!

Probably as this is being written, there are certain gentlemen in various sections of the country laying plans to capture the nomination for favorite sons.

The Middle West will probably advance the claims of former Governor Lowden of Illinois who has been busy in the interests of the farmers for the past four years.

The drys of the far west will probably champion the cause of the broadhatted Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, and it seems not too far fetched to suppose that some of the Eastern wets will attempt to corral votes for the president of Columbia University, Nicholas Murray Butler. Some there are who will argue that Charles Evans Hughes should be given the flag to carry again, and still others will argue that Vice President Charles E. Dawes should be the man to champion the cause of Republicanism. And to this list add two more, Herbert Hoover and Andrew W. Mellon.

Farm relief, prohibition, international court, naval armament pact and labor will all have a hearing on the selection of the next man to head the Republican ticket.

Right now most anybody's choice is a good one for the national convention is not until next June. But between now and then there is going to be some interesting cross currents of politics develop in the Republican party that promise to result in a free-for-all when the delegates finally assemble to name the candidate.

Advanced to the presidency through a series of events that attracted the attention of the world, President Coolidge is going out in the same manner.

IN DEFENSE OF FRECKLES

SUMMER always brings a recurrence of a special kind of dismay that afflicts the mere man's heart. It is caused by the advertisements which bloom upon the newspaper pages, stigmatizing freckles as a blemish and urging the girls to get rid of them. Why, oh why should a girl so blessed want to lose an adornment so significant and a hallmark so valuable?

In all the mazes of nature and artifices that work wonders with the feminine physiognomy, there is nothing so downright intriguing as freckles. When they are stippled upon the clear skin that usually goes with the combination, in fairy wings that straddle a slightly upturned nose and sweep in sunfed wholesomeness under eyes from whose deep wells a blithe soul looks out on life unafraid, there is no more alluring sight in all the palaces of beauty.

Freckles are not surface things; they come from the heart out. They are the sign of a vital escape from the dead level, the smooth monotony—the escape to the variety that is the spice of faces as well as life. Back of them is a soul that has absorbed the warmth of the sun, the clean breath of the wind, and the laughter and joy that nature heaps into her overflowing days of youth.

You fortunate ones, you "speckled beauties," whatever you may do to your hair, your arms, your skirts and your feet, do not succumb to this propaganda which we are persuaded is inspired by the jealous plain ones who envy your freckled charm. Keep your freckles. They are worth your weight in the gold from which they are made.

Nothing can long astonish a country that can so quickly adjust itself to a new flivver model.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 7:14. Sun rises tomorrow 4:59.

Heard on the Highland avenue street car line last night. "I see that Mr. B——left everything to his wife." "He always did."

No doubt there will be strenuous souls who will think it terrible because there is only one morning newspaper in Pittsburgh now. Some day it will be a real pleasure for some birds to get any kind of a newspaper at a high price. Making newspapers is not a child's play as some seem to think it is.

We hate to admit it, but the old fashioned man who used to carry away a lock of her hair to place in his watch, now has a son who carries away a chunk of her complexion on his coat lapel.

A Pittsburgh newspaper now costs you three cents. This has been the price of newspapers even since the war in most all cities.

Even if you can't stop smoking, you don't enjoy being criticised by an "anti" whose weight confesses that she can't stop eating.

It takes a regiment of policemen to guard Col. Lindbergh and his plane when they visit a city. That plane would not have an inch of it left if left unguarded for an instant. There are people who would steal a corpse for a souvenir.

A farmer sells a watermelon for about twenty cents and that same punkin brings four or five dollars by the slice in an eating factory. However, farmers can still get from eight to twelve dollars for a turkey, but the consumer pays in the same proportion when chewing in a public eating factory.

When a Chicago man told a judge that he thought his wife should have $25 a week alimony, the judge told him a monument should be erected to him as it was the first time he ever heard of a man being willing to pay alimony to his wife. Maybe the man thought it was worth it.

A man died in a Pittsburgh hospital from the effects of falling out of bed. Bed does not seem to be the safest place for a man to be after all according to that. We read of a lady who took a butcher knife to bed with her once and her husband wanted a divorce on that account.

The University of Heidleburg, in Germany of course conferred an honorary degree of doctor of philosophy on the American ambassador to Germany. Germany may have been bad during the war, but it has been about as decent as a nation could be since and that is the reason people think well of her now.

Aimee McPherson's mother says that every time she tries to get a conference with her daughter she just sits and eats watermelon and drinks lemonade. Seems to us she could not keep that up all the time.

The late Socialist leader, E. V. Debs wrote a book before he died in which he predicted the end of prisons. Debs had been in all kinds of jails and evidently was not in sympathy with them. If the time ever comes when there are no jails and electric chairs there will be no use in holding Sunday schools either.

New Castle seems to have been slighted in one thing recently and that is a price cutting gasoline war. Lots of cities have had them.

An excellent way for a criminal to escape notice would be to become a famous woman's husband.

A New York lady wants a divorce from her husband because he threw missles at her for fifteen years, but never hit her. She says she is tired of dodging. She must be a good dodger at that. A husband surely ought to have made a few hits with her in fifteen years.

BAD MANNERS COST $10,000

Crossing the Ocean.
Death and a Trip to Europe.
News From Both Sides.
Perhaps We Come Back.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1927, By N. Y. American, Inc.

Written on the Aquitania on the way to Paris, by way of Cherbourg, leaving New York just after midnight yesterday morning.

No matter how often you cross on big ships like this, or on little ones, you are reminded that the long trip called death and an ocean voyage are not unlike.

You take your "last dinner" in New York, friends are more or less sorry to see you go. That's the death.

On board ship you sail through space for some thousands of miles, with only water all around you. That's the trip from here to the next world.

In due time you land in that next world, to find it different from this, and very interesting.

If you go to Paris—this writer is going there—you reach what many Americans consider a fairly good imitation of heaven.

The safety in crossing our little ocean, the certainty of landing on the other side, should make us worry less about the big crossing over the ocean of ether

Once we knew as little about an Atlantic crossing as we know now about the "final trip" that each must take when his turn comes.

When Columbus started, they told him he would fall over the edge of the ocean.

When the Phoenicians ancestors of many energetic Jewish citizens first sailed from the Mediterranean, through the Straits of Gibraltar, past the gigantic rock and into the Atlantic ocean, friends thought that was the end of them.

Now crossing the ocean is like going from New York to Chicago. You hear from your friends on both sides of the ocean. Business messages come from the United States side, other messages from the European side, when 1,000 miles from shore.

Science has conquered this little ocean, intelligence has made it familiar, cleared out sea serpents, taught us we need not put wax in our ears to shut out the singing of the sirens, convinced us, to our sorrow, that no mermaids are waiting to pick us up when we fall overboard. All fear and superstition are gone from these floating cities, a preacher on board does not worry the sailors—there are no sailors.

Our oceans and our land have been cleared of superstitions, unreal horrors, chimeras, hydras and gorgons dire.

It has taken men all of the million years they have lived on earth to change from cavemen cannibals to modern exploiters of their fellowmen and to get rid of earthly superstitions.

Many haven't even done that yet.

Eventually we shall get rid of all the superstition and look forward to death and the voyage that comes after it as calmly as we now prepare for a trip across the little Atlantic.

We are only 12,000 years from the late stone age, not 200 years from the stage coach and sailboat.

A simple idea, like putting the eye of a needle in the point instead of the thick end made the sewing machine possible and freed millions of women from slavery. We should believe that other ideas will free us from the slavery of superstition, which has driven us hard through the centuries and caused more brutality, fear, cruelty and murder than all the other causes together.

Tennsyson hoped there would be no moaning at the bar when he put out to sea, and wrote prettily about "twilight and even star." Typical mid-victorian, that last trip worried him. Earth's citizens of the year 10,000,000 may think as little about that "last" journey, feel as sure about it as a modern thinks and feels about his trip to Paris now.

As people go to Paris and come back home none the worse for the trip, and take up their activities again, many believe those that take the voyage of death come back from that trip to earth and take up their work about where they dropped it.

To them it seems reasonable to credit eternal justice with wise economy, and it would seem useless waste of time to send billions of imperfect creatures to work in another corner of the universe when the work here isn't finished.

There may later be news in this column about Europe, if anything is seen that might interest you.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

A YOUNG FLAPPER

Everybody has heard the riddle, "Which came first, the chicken or the egg?" Likewise is the story of the egg of Columbus known. The jingle which starts, "In 1492 Columbus sailed the ocean blue" goes on further to say that Columbus' companions desiring eggs for breakfast, and as there were no chickens aboard, Columbus made the ship "lay two."

A certain dignified uncle has a six year old niece of whom he is very proud. The other day she came to him with a serious air and said, "Uncle Robert, if a man had a peacock, and it went into another man's yard and laig an egg, to whom would the egg belong?"

The uncle smiled indulgently and replied, "Why, the egg would belong to the man who owned the peacock. But he could be prosecuted for trespassing if he went on the other man's property to get it."

The child seemed very much interested in the explanation, and then she observed with an innocent expression, "Uncle, did you ever stop to think that the peacock could not lay an egg?"

JANET

When Janet was born,
She was tiny and frail,
And the doctor that morn.
Rather troubled and pale,
Told her mother and me,
As he bent to appraise her:
"She's as cute as can be
But I don't think you'll raise her."

When Janet was one
She was tiny, but still
She'd already begun
Demonstrating her will
And her mother once said,
Or several times maybe,
As she put her to bed:
"She's too wise for a baby!"

When Janet was three
She was sturdy and stout
And she domineered me
Until I was worn out.
To share in her play
Was my duty on Sundays,
Which I did, and I'll say
I was no good on Mondays.

And now she is five
And despite all we say
Somehow she'll contrive
Still to have her own way.
And the mother says now
When that roguish tyke bad is:
"She's stubborn, I vow!
But that's just how her dad is!"

Dr. Crane's Editorial

CRIME

Justice William Harman Black brought out some very good points on the matter of crime the other day at the meeting of the Crime Study Commission in Chicago.

After many years of practical experience on the bench and after thoroughly investigating the subject, he mentioned the following items:

In the first place, we should recognize that crime is a business, and as much a calling as being a merchant, a doctor or a laborer. A young men goes into a career of crime because of his love of adventure. It is a gambling proposition. The odds are against him, and he enjoys pitting his life and liberty against success.

The fact that most criminals are eventually apprehended and punished does not deter him. Youth is always ready to take a chance.

The criminal therefore ought not to complain if, after the risk he took with his eyes open, he suffers the penalty of the law, and other people ought not to complain for him. Justice should be swift and relentless.

Criminals ought not to be removed from one state to another as a matter of courtesy, as now, but as a matter of law. Laws ought to be changed to compel the return of criminals from one state to another.

Judges and policemen ought to be experts in practical criminology. Their business is not merely to apprehend and punish the person, but to understand how to reform the man and how to protect society.

Much could be done if judges were required to examine the prisoner before the lawyers get hold of him, as is the case in many European countries.

The rule that a man can be convicted only by unanimous consent of twelve of his peers, is not fair to society.

A conviction ought to rest upon a two-thirds vote. One crook, one fool or one mush-head ought not to be able to clear a man in a court-room before an applauding audience. Many of the laws of Scotland, Belgium and Switzerland, and many of those of the United States, provide this.

Expert witnesses should not be called by the prosecution or defense, but should be experts employed by the court, as free as possible from all influence governing their decision.

In many criminal cases in Europe they have a thirteenth juror, who only casts his vote when one of the twelve becomes ill or dies.

Prisoners should be paid for their work, and as far as possible reimburse from their earnings the victim, or the family. They should be taught a trade and enabled to obtain a position in society when they have finished their prison term.

When a man is unjustly convicted in a lower court, and afterwards vindicated by a higher court, he should be reimbursed the expense he has had in defending himself. The accused should not be compelled to pay for the mistakes of the prosecution.

The judge lays the greatest emphasis, however, upon family training and attractive home conditions. These are the greatest instrumentalities in the prevention of crime.

In Day's News

Sir Herbert Samuel, the new chairman of the British Liberal Party, has recently returned from Jerusalem, where for five years he had served as British High Commissioner in Palestine. Sir Herbert's rise to a foremost place in British politics has been unusually rapid. His first experience of office was when the Liberals, after a prolonged period out of power, took over the Government at the end of 1905. After three years as an undersecretary, he entered the cabinet in 1909, and a few years later he was a prominent member of the Government that brought Great Britain into the war. In 1916 he became Secretary of State for Home Affairs. Shortly after the armistice he was sent to Brussels on a special mission. Since his return from Palestine he has served as chairman of an important royal commission to investigate the coal industry.

Between London and Folkstone there will be in operation soon a motor bus that will carry 30 persons with table, chair and food for each. The problem of jarring and jolting has been solved by good roadbed and ingenious springs.

This item of news makes it sound less foolish to predict great overland ships for service in coast-to-coast traffic in the United States.

Our automobile industry has engineers who could design and build eight-wheeled buses that could furnish dining and sleeping accommodations for 50 persons for such service. What's lacking? Roads.

If we can have peace in this country for another 50 years we ought to have a transcontinental highway capable of carrying such overland passenger liners without mishap or inconvenience to passengers. But it will take money and constructive effort to bring about conditions wherein our engineers may do their best.

Tilden Pressed In Tournament

Veteran Tennis Player Pressed Hard To Win In Seabright Tourney.

(International News Service)

SEABRIGHT, N. J., Aug. 3.—In the third round of the Seabright invitation tennis tournament today the men's singles bring together Bill Tilden and Jerry Lang; Lewis White and George Lott; Fred Mercur and Elmer Griffin and Cranston Holman and Frank Hunter.

Despite numerous defaults there are still two second round matches in the women's singles to be played off. Mrs. Molla Mallory had advanced so far without playing a game. Both Mrs. Symington and Mrs. Davis defaulting to her. She will meet Mrs. A. H. Chapin today, if the former Charlotte Hosmer does the expected and eliminates Miss Marjorie Morrill in their delayed match.

There were several upsets yesterday. Tilden, who was expected to have an easy time of it, was closely pressed by Jimmy Quick and Arnold Jones, losing a set to the former, who had him within one game of elimination. Manuel Alonso, second ranking player, lost to Mercur 6-3, 8-6, and John Doeg, holder of the junior championship, and one of the year's sensations, lost to Lewis White.

Three veterans were put out of the running yesterday, R. Norris Williams, Watson Washburn—both former Davis cup players—and Dean Mathey all being beaten.

Four Members Of School Board To Be Elected Here

Three Members Whose Terms Expire Do Not Expect To Be Candidates Again

Thre new faces will be seen on the New Castle school board, when the re-organization takes place in January, 1928, if the decision of three members stands, and all of them seem to be irrevocable.

The terms of four members expire with the present year, those of Mrs. Rose M. Nothdurft, James K. Love, John A. Butler and Andrew Dietterle, Sr. While Mrs. Nothdurft could not be reached today, it is understood she will file for re-election within a few days, but the three men whose terms expire have made it plain that they will not run for re-election.

The term of Mrs. Nothdurft is the only full term expiring in which the member elected has served the six years. In 1921 she was elected, the first woman to be chosen for public office here, and in that time has done a splendid piece of work.

James K. Love, the present president of the board was originally appointed to fill the vacancy made when George A. Rigby resigned. Two years ago he ran for the unexpired term of two years and was elected.

John A. Butler was appinted to fill the vacancy caused when Robert T. Withers resigned and a director must now be elected to fill the unexpired term.

Andrew Dietterle, Sr., was elected to fill out the unexpired term of Rev. D. P. Shafer, the appointment of which was filled by A. C. Hyde.

All of the three men named, Mr. Love, Mr. Butler and Mr. Dietterle, are firm in their refusal to run. Their opinions seem to be that they have given much of their time to a work that demands much from the incumbent, and that other hands should now take up the work.

Thus far there are two candidates who have filed papers for the office of school director, Attorney Roy Hazen and Dr. Charles F. Flannery. If Mrs. Nothdurft files, as it is expected she will, she will be the third candidate.

Marine Deserter Finally Nabbed

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 3.—After eluding capture for nearly four months, James Sullivan, 21, a deserter from the marine corps, gave himself up to authorities so he could attend the funeral of his brother, drowned Sunday near Hammonton, N. J.

Sullivan also asked to be allowed to visit his mother today, who is ill at the Lying-In Charity hospital here. His wish will be granted.

How to Protect the Throat When Smoking

What 9651* Doctors say on this subject

The signed statements of intelligent men and women whose voices are to them what the hands of the day laborer are to him—the means indispensable to livelihood or success in life—are convincing. Actors and actresses, great singers, men conspicuous in public life, radio announcers, testify that they like LUCKY STRIKE cigarettes because of their finer flavor and because they do not irritate the throat.

Before such statements by laymen were published, questions had been addressed to a number of physicians in various sections of the United States—many of them leading physicians—and some replies had been received. The following is the result of the questionnaire:

Q1—In your judgment is the heat treatment or toasting process applied to tobaccos previously aged and cured, likely to free the cigarette from irritation to the throat?

9651 doctors answered this question "YES".

© Mishkin, N.Y.

Q2—Do you think from your experience with LUCKY STRIKE cigarettes that they are less irritating to sensitive or tender throats than other cigarettes, whatever the reason?

11,105 doctors answered this question "YES".

"Like scores of others whose everything is their voice and a clear throat, I, when I smoke, prefer the toasted cigarette—Lucky Strike."

Made It Miserable For Wife, Revealed Concerning Murder

(International News Service)

FRANKLIN, La., Aug. 3.—A new and strange light was thrown today upon the domestic affairs of Mrs. James J. Leboeuf, who with Dr. Thomas E. Dreher, her admirer and James Beadle a Dour trapper is on trial for the murder of her husband. Leboeuf's shot-riddled and mutilated body was taken from the waters of Lake Palourde on the night of July 7 and there have been confessions from all the principals.

Leboeuf made his wife's life "a perfect hell" according to Louis Blakeman, chief of police of Morgan City, and a brother-in-law of the woman on trial.

"Imagine a man in his wife's clothes and with is wife's veil over his face, driving her car with a pistol in his hip pocket, looking for the man he suspected of having a love affair with her," said Blakeman.

"Imagine this same man, lying on the floor of the toneau with a pistol in his hands forcing his wife to drive about the streets hoping that her alleged lover would accost her.

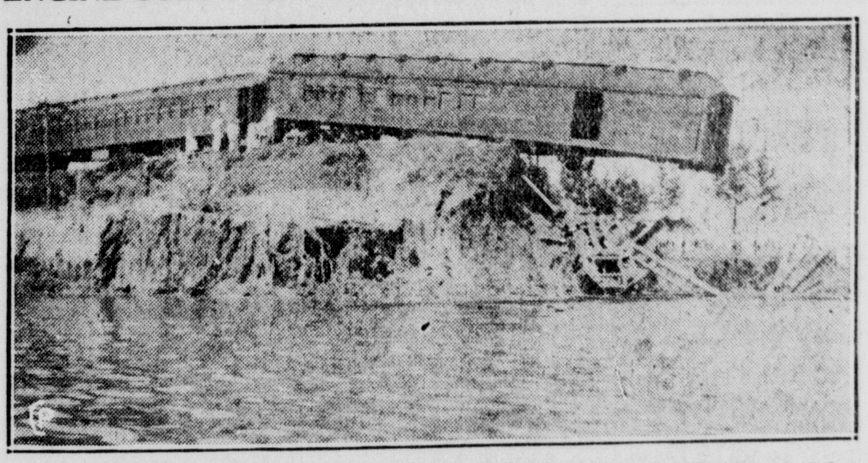

"Such a man was Jim Leboeuf.

"I wanted her to confess that she knew about the murder because I knew it would be better for her to do so when everything came out. Jim Leboeuf made a living hell out of her existence" he said.

There wouldn't be any capital punishment, however, if humans had no capacity for revenge.

ENGINE GOES THROUGH TRESTLE, DAWES SAVED

Scene when engine pulling special train on which Vice President Dawes was riding plunged 45 feet through a flood-weakened trestle into a deep bayou, near Greenville, Miss. The train was traveling only eight miles an hour and the automatic setting of air brakes saved the vice president and party, which included Charles Markham, chairman of the board of the Illinois Central; L. A. Downs, the road's president, and Mayor Rowlett Paine of Memphis, Tenn., all on the way to the state American Legion convention at Greenville. Sam Jones, engineer drowned, had piloted company engines 50 years.

Remove Panel To Find Woman's Pearl Necklace

Concrete evidence that 'Home-Brew' is being made in at least one home here came to light today—two cans of the material having been found on a P.-O. street car. According to Pat Kearns, dispatcher, the cans are being held for their owner.

However, 15 umbrellas which were left on cars during the past 30 days, not having been claimed, have been returned to the operators who found them.

A Youngstown woman who lost a pearl necklace between the window and panel of a panel Youngstown-New Castle coach had the necklace returned to her today. The necklace lodged in such a manner that it was necessary to remove a panel of the coach to get the pearls without damage.

Louise Brooks' Beautiful Bob

THE challenging beauty of Louise Brooks, Paramount Player, is accentuated by a strikingly attractive style of bob. Yet, the full potential beauty of her hair does not show on the screen. For, in real life, the ultra-smart coiffure now possesses a subtle charm which cannot be photographed.

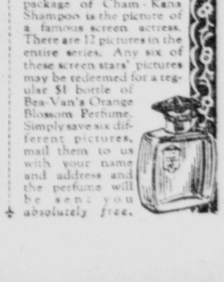

This charm is a suggestion of attractive feminine daintiness. It is the light, alluring fragrance imparted to the hair by Cham-kana Shampoo. Thousands of women in society and in business have discovered that Cham-Kana alone adds this desirable, clinging fragrance to the hair.

Then, Cham-Kana contains Quinine—the scalp tonic par-excellence. It invigorates the scalp, restores dull hair to lustrous beauty and thoroughly cleanses. But, above all, Cham-kana lends an added charm, a new, alluring fragrance which is found in no other shampoo. Thoughtful, smart women recognize its value.

State Treasury Balance Is High, Report Reveals

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 3—Despite heavy payments during July, the State Treasury balance at the close of the month was $59,439,084.88, a new high total, State Treasurer Samuel S. Lewis announced Tuesday. The July balance is approximately two million dollars in excess of that at the end of June.

Total receipts during July were $14,437,136 and payments were $12,129,261.

The abolition of a number of special funds raised the balance in the General Funds to more than $27,000,000.

The motor fund carried in excess of $15,000,000 and the state bond road residue dwindled $2,000,000 during the month leaving a balance in excess of $5,000,000.

The insurance tan fund, the state bond road sinking fund and the state employes annuity reserve all carried balances in excess of $1,000,000.

Sheriff Of Centre Accused Of Assault

Held In $1000 Bail On Charges By Officer Of Highway Patrol

LEWISTOWN, Pa., Aug. 3—Richard Taylor, sheriff of Centre county, is under $1,000 bond on a charge of assault and battery with deadly weapons. The sheriff was taken into custody on information made by Lieut. J. M. Bender of the Altoona district motor patrol, before Justice of the Peace Kline Woodring. Robert Taylor a nephew of the sheriff, who Corporal Amend of the state motor patrol is alleged to have attacked, was also under $1,000 bond for a hearing.

Amend was arrested following an altercation with Robert Taylor the previous night and waiving a hearing was held in $1,800 bail for court Sheriff Taylor asserts that Amend resisted arrest in the patrol barracks and that he was compelled to strike him on the head with the butt of his gun to subdue him. Witnesses gave a different story, according to Lieut. Bender who made an exhaustive inquiry before advising legal action. The story told by witnesses is that Taylor gripped Amend roughly, tore part of his shirt from his shoulders and hit him above the eye with his gun before Amend knew what it was all about.

The original altercation took place in front of the Peter's wrecking station, Bellefonte, when Robert Taylor's wife came to the barracks asking for help saying her husband had threatened to kill her. Corporal Amend had taken a drunken driver to jail and returned for his motorcycle when it is alleged he was attacked by Taylor and three companions who asked about the whereabouts of Taylor's wife. Mrs. Taylor arrived a few seconds later and screamed for help when the four men attacked Amend.

Two Hundred Are Killed In Blast At Mission House

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Two hundred Chinese Nationalist soldiers were killed on July 26 in the explosion of an ammunition depot in St. Joseph's school. American Church mission at Wuchang, Consul General Lockhart at Hankow advised the State Department today. Property damage was $20,000. No injury to foreigners was reported.

Many bodies are still in the wreckage. The school had been taken over and used as an ammunition depot by the Chinese.

PETERS ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

By Florence Smith Vincent

DOWN WITH THE PESTS!

"Glug! Glug! Grandfather Always-Catch-It has proved his luck again," croaked the Frogs in chorus and they clapped their hands together. Peter felt little shivers running up and down his back.

"I expect every one of your friends is wishing I were an insect, Froggie," said he in an aside. "They would like nothing better than to see me disappearing head first into great-grandfather's wide mouth. Thank goodness I am strong enough to stand my ground. Even your champion swallower might find odds against him if he tried to make 'way with me. "What a pleasant-looking old chap great-grandfather is, though! There he sits as cool and calm as a spring morning. One would never think to look at him that he was the wicked old villain he really is. I leave it to you, would any passers-by ever guess that only within a few moments he had gobbled down a horse-fly and a harmless gnat?"

Froggie chuckled.

"No," said he. "Nobody would. But great-grandfather is not wicked, nor is there really much evil in any of us Frogs. You know as well as I do that there are far too many insects in this world. You can't tell that you two-legs love mosquitoes and gnats and great fat, greedy horse-flies any more than we Frogs do!

"You 'swat the fly' every chance you get; you drain the swamps so that you may drive the mosquitoes away and sometimes you pour oil upon the stagnant pools and streams so that the baby mosquitoes will never live to grow up. Whenever you see a tiny gnat flitting by you slap your hands—so! And he is crushed between them. Tell me, isn't that the truth?"

"YOU 'SWAT THE FLY' EVERY CHANCE YOU GET"

Peter nodded.

"Yes, it is," admitted he. "What a wise Froggie you are!"

"Oh, I haven't hopped about the world for so long without learning something," croaked he. "But I didn't mention this to brag about how smart I am. I only want you to see how unfair you are to blame us Frogs for ridding the world of as many of these stinging, unclean pests as we can make way with when you two-legs do the very same thing yourselves. To be sure, you may not eat the insects, but that is a mere matter of taste. We Frogs like them and you do not—that is all the difference.

"Of course, Great-grandfather Always-Catch-It is proud and happy and satisfied with himself and the world. He has a perfect right to be. Not only has he just had a dainty tidbit, but he has done a good deed—gotten rid of a nuisance. Now we have settled that matter I think it is time to——"

Froggie never finished what he was going to say. He was interrupted in an entirely unexpected manner.

Youth Kills Self With "Empty" Gun

Mother Finds Body Of Son As She Goes To Awaken Him For Outing

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 3.—Shot through the heart while cleaning a pistol in the basement kitchen of his home, 215 Dawson street, Manayunk, early yesterday, John W. Christman, 19, died on the steps leading to the upper floors of the house as he made a futile effort to summon members of his family.

His body, with arms outstretched, as through attempting to drag himself up the flight of steps, was found by his mother, Georgianna, after she had failed to find the young man in his bedroom when she went there to awaken him to start on an excursion.

City Hall detectives believe young Christman shot himself in testing the trigger of the pistol, forgetting that a bullet remained in the chamber after he had removed the magazine clip.

On a table near where it is believed the young man sat as he worked on the pistol was found the magazine containing five cartridges; alongside the chair where Christman had been sitting City Hall Detective Sommerscale found the empty cartridge, ejected from the pistol after the fatal bullet had been fired.

Suicide Attempt Proves Failure

(International News Service)

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Aug. 2—John Risedretsit, 52-year-old boarder at a local hotel, is "cooling his heels" in the county jail here today because his irate landlord objected to his unsuccessful effort to commit suicide.

Risedretsit lay down on the floor of his room in the hotel last night and decided to commit suicide. He fastened one end of a cord to the trigger of a shotgun and the other end to his toe.

With a sudden kick he exploded the gun, but he forgot—and ducked. The charge whizzed by his head, lodging in the wall.

The enraged landlord aroused over the damage to the hotel, had him locked up.

Despondence over ill health, police said, caused Risedretsit to attempt suicide.

Does illness keep you from your work?

A GIRL who earns her living—whether in store, office, factory or home—realizes the necessity of regular attendance at her place of employment. For this reason she works on day after day. When she becomes tired out and run-down, she feels that she must keep at her work without taking time to rest.

Thousands of girls have found that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored them to a normal physical condition, and has made them fit for work. These two women testify to that fact:

HEALTHY AND STRONG

Silverton, Oregon:—"I am writing to tell you how much your medicine has helped me. I was doing cannery work, canning, sealing, etc., but had to quit work when sick as I would be so weak I could hardly walk across the room. A friend of mine told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have found relief when sick and it helps me more each time. Every one says I am a healthier and stronger girl. I am recommending the Vegetable Compound to all my friends." Julia Schmidt, 113 Willow St., Silverton, Oregon.

LOOK AS YOUNG

Fruitdale, South Dakota:—"I felt badly. It seemed like my back broke all to pieces and I couldn't stoop down to get anything from the floor. Then a friend told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. So I did, and it sure has helped me. I can work all day long and I feel so good. I am 38 years old and I look just as young as if I were 20. I am glad to answer letters from any one about this medicine because it has done me good." Mrs. Francis F. Fajardo, Box 31, Fruitdale, South Dakota.

Lemon Juice is Best to Whiten Skin

Prepare It Yourself at Home

The juice of two lemons squeezed into a bottle with Orchard White, will soothe sunburn, and clear up freckles, tan, discolored skin quicker than anything you can buy already prepared, and it doesn't cost you near as much.

Any druggist can sell you Orchard White, and it only takes a minute to mix it with the juice of two lemons. Then you have enough to last you all season.

It makes a delightful lotion which you can put on your face, neck, arms or hands at any time, and it will keep them nice and white. Mix a bottle now, so you will have it handy to use should your skin begin to turn dark, or rough.

Braves Worry League Leaders

Boston Brave Wins Third Straight Game From Pittsburgh By Score 5 To 2.

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Every year when the pennant race gets hot, the lowly Boston Braves go on a rampage and proceed to ruin various pennant contenders. Having scuttled the Pirates in three successive games, the beaneaters today will open fire on the Cubs. The Bruins trimmed the Phillies again yesterday and now lead the Bucs by a game and a half.

Kent Greenfield, tossed in by John McGraw as a souvenir in the recent New York-Boston trade, is fast becoming the best pitcher in the league. Yesterday he won a 5 to 2 decision over Carmen Hill, Pittsburgh mound ace, and the Braves climbed out of the cellar.

The Cubs knocked Alex Ferguson for a loop and smothered the Phils 6 to 2. Earl Webb continued his great hitting, getting three timely bingles. The Phils flopped into last place.

The Cardinals halted the rush of the Giants, scoring six runs in the eighth and winning 6 to 2 behind Alexander's airtight twirling. Frank Snyder, former New York catcher, bit the hands that once fed him by smacking a home run with two on bases.

Cincinnati nosed out Brooklyn twice 3 to 1 and 5 to 4 and regained fifth place. Rube Bressler was stopped after he had hit safely in 25 consecutive games.

History repeated itself as Walter Johnson failed to stop the Tigers, who defeated him in his first start 20 years ago. The Bengals won in the ninth, 7 to 6. The Big Train was taken out in the ninth but was not charged with the derfeat.

Nearly 20,000 fans saw the game and Johnson's share of the gate receipts was $14,764.05. The league presented to him a distinguished service cross of solid gold, studded with 20 diamonds.

Harold Wiltse, Red Sox southpaw, held the Browns to two hits and blanked them 3 to 0 after the Sox had lost the opener 3 to 2.

Bib Falk had a perfect day at bat with four hits, including a homer, as the White Sox stymied the Athletics 7 to 4. Cochrane's homer in the 12th gave the A's a 6 to 5 decision in the nightcap after Metzler's homer with one on base had put the Sox in front.

The Yankees and Indians did not play.

Tariff Entente Is Planned For Europe

(International News Service)

PARIS, Aug. 3.—Reduction or armaments will be one of the main topics of discussion at the twenty-fourth conference of the Interparliamentary Union to be held here from August 25 to 30.

The creation of an European Tariff Entente, the world fight against drugs and methods of codification of International Law are other items on the agenda.

Sessions of the Conference will be held in the Palais du Luxembourg, assembly hall of the French Senate, under the presidency of Paul Doumer, president of the Senate.

At least four hundred Parliamentarians from more than thirty countries are expected to attend. This will be the third time since the Union was founded in Paris in 1888 that the Conference has met in Paris. The last conference was held in Washington in 1925.

Dr. Manning Hits Trial Marriages

Bishop In Paris Sermon Sees World-Wide Attack On Christian Morality

PARIS, Aug. 3.—Trial marriages, Paris divorces and other habits of modern day Americans were criticized today by Bishop William T. Manning of the Episcopal diocese of New York in a sermon at the American Cathedral of the Holy Trinity.

"We all know that there is going on at the present time open and shameless propaganda against the whole ideal of Christian morality and especially against Christ's teaching in sexual matters," said Bishop Manning. "This attack on Christian morality has its full expression in Russia, where the avowed purpose is to destroy both morality and religion, but it is going on with increasing boldness everywhere. It is doing its work in our literature, in the theatre, and even in some of our colleges and universities.

"When such things as trial marriage and so-called companionate marriage are being openly commended to our young people by university professors and others, it is time that those of us who believe in Christ and His standards, to speak of our minds and call these things by their plain names. Trial marriage is of course not marriage at all, but simple harlotry, and calling it by new name does not make it any better. "Companionate marriage" as it is grandiloquently termed, is nothing but a proposal to sanction prostitution and to legalize free love.

"And it is time also to say that the Paris divorces granted to rich Americans which are helping to make mockery of marriage are a dishonor to France even as the flood of divorces in our land are a dishonor to America and a menace to our life as a nation.

"We all love France and admire Paris, but the present issuing of Paris divorces to Americans is a scandalous and shameful thing, an abuse which ought to be corrected and I don't hesitate to say this, here in this city, for I know that the clergy of France and all God fearing Frenchmen and French women will say this as strongly as I do."

WHERE DAWES NARROWLY ESCAPED INJURY

The recent Mississippi floods almost claimed the life of the Vice-President of the United States! A trestle near Heads, Miss., undermined by the flood, gave way just as the train carrying Charles G. California Prospers Faster Than Average Bank Figures Show

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.—California is growing in prosperity at a rate of two or three times as fast as that of the rest of the country, Alan Sproul of the Federal Reserve branch here, computed today.

"The annual increase in financial prosperity in California is between 6 and 9 per cent each year," Sproul went on. "The rate of growth for the entire United States is from 3½ to 4 per cent.'

The energizing, exploitive character of California residents is responsible for the discrepancy in favor of the Golden state, Sproul believes.

Old Badger Game Works In Cleveland

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, Aug. 2.—The "old badger game," ancient and effective method fleecing the sucker, has just been operated in a new way here, according to the local police.

The story came to light through Paul Taldy, one of the victims of a pretty 21-year-old girl and her husband. The girl, according to Taldy, was driving alone in an automobile and invited him to take a ride with her.

It was after nightfall, at a downtown street car, and Taldy, all unsuspecting, accepted.

The girl drove out into the country and parked at a lonely spot along the road. Suddenly, a "bandit" stepped out from the shadows and commanded Taldy to "stick 'em up." After relieving him of his watch and cash, the couple left Taldy standing on the highway and drove away.

The victim reported to police and a few days later, the girl and her husband were picked up on a charge of suspicion. Taldy identified both.

Record For U. S.; No Motor Deaths

OAKLAND, Aug. 3.—Oakland is the safest big city in the country.

Beginning on February 25, for a 60-day period not a single person was killed in Oakland in an automobile mishap. Another 56-day period without a fatality was ended recently when a motorist disregarded a boulevard stop sign.

Oakland's record is not equalled by any city over 300,000 population.

Woods Out For City Treasurer

Qualified By Education And Experience For Office To Which He Aspires.

MARION S. WOODS

To the Public:

In announcing myself as a candidate for the office of City Treasurer at the Republican Primaries, I wish to say that I was born and raised in the city of New Castle, attending its schools and graduating from the local High School in the class of 1905. I am forty one years of age.

My work has all been accounting having been employed by the American Sheet & Tin Plate Co. and the Jones & Laughlin Steel Co.

In 1921 I entered the local office of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, where I have since been continuously employed in the capacity of Deputy Collector and Division Chief.

In aspiring to this office, I do so with a full knowledge of its duties and responsibilities, having been employed in the Treasurer's office for one year and a half under a former City Treasurer.

In order to conduct this office in a successful and harmonious manner, three things are necessary.

First—Efficiency. The office should at all times have the personal supervision of the Treasurer and all mistakes possible should be eliminated before the tax cards are mailed. An effort should be made to see that each person assessed receives a notice of the taxes due.

Second—Honesty. The Treasurer should be basicly honest, although he is bonded to the city for any discrepancies that might arise during his term of office.

Third—Courtesy. To my mind this is the greatest requisite of all. Taxpayers, whether paying taxes in large or small amounts should all receive kind and courteous treatment.

If nominated and elected to this office, my promise to the citizens of this city is that the work will at all times have my personal supervision; that a diligent and efficient effort will be made to collect all the taxes; and that every taxpayer coming into the office will have the same helpful and courteous consideration from me and other employees of the office that they have received in the past when coming in contact with me in my position as Division Chief and Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue.

Your vote and influence is respectfully solicited.

MARION S. WOODS.

Woman, 101, Gives Rap At Flappers

MASSILLON, O., Aug. 3.—That the present day flapper is setting entirely too fast a pace is the belief of Mrs. Mary Ann Braucher Lichtenwalter of North Canton, Ohio, who celebrated her one hundred and first birthday anniversary today.

While this mother of five children sits propped up in bed she recalls the days when she was a girl, working from 4 o'clock in the morning until 10 o'clock at night. Short skirts, bobbed hair and rouge were not necessities to her. Girls of today have too many leisure hours, she says.

Mrs. Lichtenwalter remembers the day the first railroad train steamed into Massillon, saw the birth of the Ohio canal and watched it slowly pass into history.

So you don't believe in a hereafter? neither does a small boy when he desires to eat green apples.

Two And Half Miles Of Mercer-Sharon Road Completed

MERCER, Pa., Aug. 3.—The pouring of concrete on the Mercer-Sharon road has now proceeded to a point on the other side of Charleston the total amount having been completed being something over two and a half miles. Traffic is now open on the new road to the road at the Hawthorne farm which leads across to the Zahniser farm and is being used as a detour.

It is expected that the road will be open as far as Charleston some time next week which will create a new detour, by the way of Greenfield, New Virginia and Neshannock to Sharon, which is reported to be in good condition, being ashed all but about three-fourths of a mile and is much shorter than the one used by the way of Greenville or the McKean greenhouse.

The Wallace hill has been greatly improved and the grade is greatly lessened. The road is to be flanked by a five foot berme on each side of the road.

W. B. Scott For Co. Commissioner

In announcing my name to the Republican voters of the county for the office of County Commissioner, I wish to say I bear no malice toward any other candidate, have no personal matters to bring into the campaign, have no prejudices toward any part of the county.

Have had seven years experience as Clerk for County Commissioners in an adjoining county. I consider this experience as a great asset in conducting the business of the office.

If successful I will use my greatest efforts to promote the best interests of the county at large.

Thanking you in advance for your support, I am

Respectfully yours,

The county committee will submit a program for 50 miles of new road along with improvement of several roads throughout the county.

Greyhound Trainers Will Leave City

For some time, E. R. Krieger and S. H. Shephard have been training high-bred greyhounds to chase electrically propelled stuffed rabbits at the New Castle Fair grounds.

They have finished their work now and expect to leave on Wednesday, August 10, for Louisville, to conduct races there.

Krieger and Shephard have been engaged in the training work for some time. They are fast spreading over the eastern part of this country this sport—greyhound racing. In many of the larger cities in the west and south, this sport has become very popular.

The greyhounds chase the artificial rabbit, which they believe is real, round and round the track several times in an effort to catch it. At some of the larger races of this kind, crowds estimated at 10,000 have attended.

Many people from this city visited the grounds and became more familiar with the new sport while they were here.

Plans Progress For Big Battle In Chicago Ring

License For Dempsey-Tunney Bout Granted To Chicago Millionaire.

RICKARD RETURNS TO NEW YORK CITY

By GENE HOFFMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—Although the exact date is still subject of speculation, plans for the big Tunney-Dempsey title bout, scheduled for Soldiers' Field, Chicago, "sometime in September" went forward today with vigorous strides following the issuance of a promoter's license to George Getz, a citizen of Illinois.

Getz will pinch hit for Tex Rickard of New York, in order to avoid the necessity of amending the state's boxing law, which bars non-resident promoters.

Rickard first announced the date of his epochal "boxing convention" as September 15. He had scarcely taken a deep breath until he was forced to announce a postponement of one week on receipt of word from Jack Dempsey, who is in Los Angeles, that illness of his wife, Estelle Taylor, would delay his departure for the east.

Although Dempsey stated it would be impossible for him to appear in the ring before September 26, Rickard set the new date for September 22, and wired Gene Tunney to be ready to do battle at that time. It is believed here that Rickard may accede to Dempsey's wishes and change the date to September 26.

Assured that everything was set for the big bout, Rickard moved yesterday on to New York, where it is said he is due for a clash with the New York Commission over bringing the fight to Chicago. According to reports here, the New York solons will attempt on the strength of an alleged early promise, to force Rickard to stage the fight "at home."

Presbyterians Picnic At Etna Springs Park

GROVE CITY, Pa., Aug. 3.—The Intermediate-Senior department of the Presbyterian church will hold a picnic-weiner roast at Etna Springs today. Groups of the picnickers will be taken to the grounds from the church at 3 p. m. and 5:30 p. m.

Rotarians Told Of District Attorney's Work And Opinions

MERCER, Pa., Aug. 3.—The Mercer Rotary club had as its speaker Monday noon, District Attorney L. R. Rickard who spoke on needed legislation in relation to criminal prosecutions, and told of the efforts which the District Atorney's association of the state had put forth to have the recent genral assembly pass legislation which would give the prosecuting attorneys of the state a 50-50 break with the defense.

Mr. Rickard as district attorney during the past eight yars has had an experience which probably no other district attorney of Mercer county ever had and knows the handicaps which the state's attorney must always encounter in getting material testimony before a jury.

In his opinion there is too many laws passed and too few repealed. He would have the "blue laws" of the state repaled and replaced by laws with teeth in them to bring about a proper observance of the Sabbath and to conform to present day needs, citing the inadequacy of the $4 fine to enforce the law.

He cited numerous cases which had been before the courts during his term in which the commonwealth did not have an even break. Mr. Rickard favors speedy justice such as prevails in Great Britain and her colonies which lessens crime in those countries.

Borough Assessors To Be Elected Anew

MERCER, Pa., Aug. 3.—The recent session of the general assembly passed an act which provides for the election of all assessors in boroughs in the year 1927 and every four years thereafter. This will mean the ousting of all assessors elected two years ago for a four years' term which effects Mercer and other boroughs of the county. The constitutionality of the act is being questioned by attorneys and others, who contend that the term of office cannot be curtailed but that it can be extended. The information comes through the new borough code an advance copy of which has been secured by L. R. Rickard, borough solicitor for Mercer.

Whether similar legislation has been passed effecting the townships has not been learned. The burning of the state printery has delayed the publication of the pamphlet laws and only advance sheets have been received as the type is prepared for the coming publications.

Bible School Picnic At Lakewood Beach

Christian And Missionary Alliance To Have Outing On August 5

Annual picnic of the Christian and Missionary Alliance Bible school will be an event of Friday August 5 at Lakewood Beach. Transportation will be in charge of John Lewis, Jr.

Transportation will be furnished from the church on Pearson street for all those not having any other way of going. The hours for leaving the church are 9 and 11 a. m. and 4:30 p. m. It is deired that all those going from the church to be there promptly at the hours mentioned. All baskets are to be taken to the church at 12:30 and at 6 p. m.

The sports of the day will be in charge of M. F. Gosnell, William Gamble, Miss Smith and Miss Elizabeth Dyke. Mrs. Kenedy's class of women are to have charge of the tables.

The children of the school will be given their usual treat of ice cream cones at 3:30. There will be free bathing for all chilren under ten years of age.

The committee asks that all those who have autos report at the church at least a quarter of an hour before time for leaving.

Picnic Of First U. P. Church At Crawford's Grove On Wednesday

MERCER, Pa., Aug. 3.—The Frist United Presbyterian congregation and Sunday school will hold their annual picnic at Crawford's grove near Leesburg on the Perry highway Wednesday. The affair is to be an all-day event and the picnickers are scheduled to leave the church in South Pitt street at 9:45 where all are requested to congregate. Transportation will be furnished to those not having their own.

When the Man Fades Out of the Picture
the woman pays. Why do men put off the question of life insurance, the protection of their wives and families against the uncertain future?
About them on every side are the living examples of the hardships which such procrastination carries in its wake. Families scattered—homes broken up—women, thrust by grim necessity out of reach of small, clinging hands . . . . beyond earshot of tiny pattering feet . . . . into positions for which they are not fitted. And other women living out a life bounded by cheap boarding house and office or factory.

Practically No Speeding Here

Automobilists Not Obeying "Stop Signs" As They Should.

There is practically no speeding in the streets of New Castle said Motorcycle Policeman Ray Richards today who said, however that automobilists are not obeying the "Stop" signs at through intersections. "I was compelled to make several arrests for violation of this order Tuesday," he said.

"Traffic here acts as a detriment to traffic and while it is true that some automobilists 'cut in' and 'cut out' it depends on the manner in which they do it that causes motorcycle and traffic policemen to act," he said.

Youth Is Found Suicide Victim

(International News Service)

MILLERSBURG, Pa., Aug. 3.—Authorities today believed that Geo. Feeser, 19, committed suicide here yesterday by drinking the contents of a small bottle of poison because he was despondent over the death of his mother.

The boy's body was found by children at play near the bank of the Susquehanna river, shortly after he failed to report for work in a local shoe factory.

PROTECTED HOME CIRCLE PICNIC IS BEING HELD

Delegations of picnickers have arrived at Cascade Park and are enjoying themselves at the annual outing of New Castle Circle No. 5, Protected Home Circle. Several thousand persons will be participants in the outing which was featured this afternoon by dancing and an athletic program. Late this afternoon a big picnic dinner was held in the grove, where free coffee, cream and sugar was dispensed.

Coolidge Decision Simple And Pointed, New England Style

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—"Will you have some more pie?" the New England housewife asks her guest.

"I wouldn't choose any, thank you," is the New Englander's reply. It means simple and polite refusal.

Those familiar with New England and it's talk recalled this quirk of the vernacular as the politically wise of the country sought to find the hidden meaning behind the eleven words of President Coolidge:—

"I do not choose to run for President in nineteen twenty-eight."

Might it be possible, some authorities ask, that the president merely was talking the common talk of his section?

J. E. Houk In Litter Club

The first Lawrence county man to qualify for the Pennsylvania Ton Litter club is John E. Houk of near Edenburg.

Mr. Houk's litter consists of ten pure-bred Hampshire pigs and according to H. R. McCulloch, the litter tipped the scales at 2,390 pounds when weighed yesterday. These pigs are 180 days old.

The object of this club is to secure as members those men who have a litter of pigs weighing a ton or more at six months of age.

To qualify for this club one must secure the proper entries through County Agent McCulloch and must farrow their litter between February 1 and May 30. Mr. Houk farrowed his on February 3.

The members of this club thereby are growing more pigs more economically and getting them to market sooner.

Mr. Houk is to be congratulated for his fine work and should consider this a great honor.

Guardsmen Compete In Track Meet At Mt. Gretna Today

Water-Logged Field Is Scene Of Annual Encampment Track Meet Today

(International News Service)

MT. GRETNA, Pa., Aug. 3.—Before a gallery of their 3700 camp mates, four hundred athletes of the 111th and 112th Infantry regiments, the 108th Field Artillery and the 103d Medical regiment competed today on a water logged field for the track championship of the 28th Division at the Pennsylvania National Guard Encampment.

The entries included many scholastic and collegiate stars, members of western and central state units, and holder of state and national records. The meet is held with the sanction of the A. A. U., and carries as a trophy to the victor the title of champion of the Pennsylvania Division of the Military Athletic League of America. The title at present and that of divisional champion is held by the 111th.

Col. John S. Fair, of Philadelphia, regular army instructor, is president of the course, assisted by Captain William A. Sexton, of the 111th, secretary of the Pennsylvania Division, Military Athletic League.

Mellon's Candidacy For Presidency Is Being Considered

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 3.—Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury, probably will not be a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination next year, his nephew W. L. Mellon, Republican State chairman said here today in commenting on the now famous Coolidge statement.

Mellon admitted a movement was under way to get he nomination for his uncle and that the president's statement at Rapid City probably would enhance this movement but expressed the belief that the treasury head would decline to enter the race.

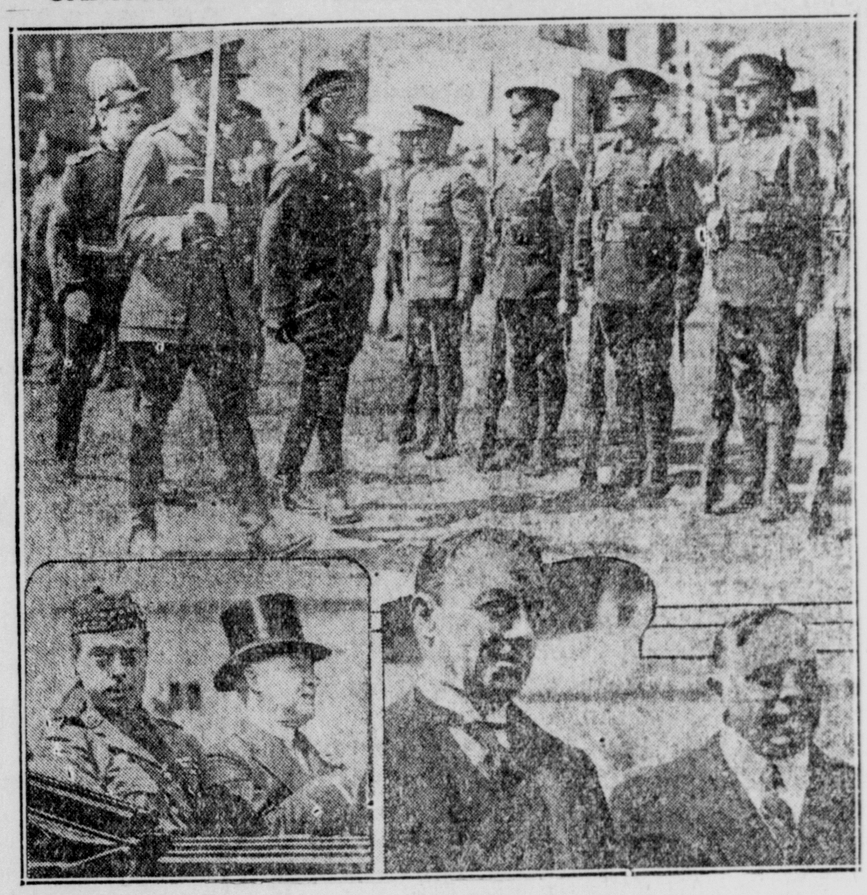

Oklahoma Fliers Are Held Back By Torrential Rains

(International News Service)

BARTLESVILLE Okla., Aug. 3.—Torrential rains today caused an indefinite postponement of the Bennett Griffin-Al Henley non-stop flight to San Francisco.

"A take off is out of the question" Griffin and Henley, entered with their giant Travelair monoplane in the San Francisco-Honolulu Dole prize flight, declared at 6 o'clock when they had planned to take the air.

La Follette Without Statement On Bomb Exploded By Coolidge

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—Asked by International News Service to comment upon President Coolidge's declaration he did not "choose to run in 1928," United States Senator Robert M. La Follette, of Wisconsin, as spokesman for the Progressive party in national politics declared today over the telephone from Mayo Brothers hospital at Rochester, Minn.:

"We do not care to make a formal statement at this time. The president's announcement, while not entirely unexpected, comes as something of a surprise. We believe that it will be best to observe the situation more thoroughly and to await further developments before a statement. I will make a formal statement in behalf of the Progressive element later."

More Candidates Added To List

Five more candidates filed their papers today with the county commissioners adding to the already long list.

Thomas McMahon filed for constable of the First ward of New Castle. O. H. P. Green filed for alderman of the Third ward of New Castle. J. A. Anderson filed for assessor of the First ward of Ellwood City. Marion S. Woods filed for the position of city treasurer of New Castle, all of the above being on the Republican ticket. Calvin C. Boyd filed on the Democratic ticket for county commissioner.

Open Fire House Bids August 15

May Move Police Station To East Street Fire Company Quarters.

City officials today stated that the South Jefferson Street fire station would be constructed this summer and bids will be opened by council August 15. The new fire-house will occupy the equipment from No. 1 station, East street, which will probably be converted into quarters for other municipal departments. It is probable that when the new fire station is built and occupied the police station will be moved to the ground floor of the present building occupied by No. 1 fire company.

CHRYSLER ANNOUNCES "RED-HEAD" NEW HIGH COMPRESSION ENGINE

Increases Power and Speed, Takes Full Advantage of New Fuels.

A new high compression engine which it is predicted will completely alter the public's understanding of motor car performance—power, speed and acceleration—is announced by the Chrysler Corporation.

This new engine, to be known as the Chrysler "Red-Head"—the head will be painted a vivid red color to distinguish it—makes it possible for the Chrysler car owner to take advantage of the greater power-producing elements of high compression fuels.

For several years, high compression engines and fuels have been in use on racing automobiles but due to the inadequate distribution of this particular fuel it has not been practical to use high compression in automobiles for general service. Mr. Chrysler, who has been watching the development of the anti-knock fuels by the oil industry, now sees the opportunity of introducing to the motoring public, engines which are designed to operate with this fuel because of its now very broad distribution. This gives motorists an opportunity to enjoy the improved performance of high compression engines, which take full advantage of the anti-knock fuels.

The original Chrysler engine introduced three years ago was a high compression engine. Chrysler engineers have realized the many advantages of increasing the compression still higher. They anticipated the coming of high compression fuels. And so they set about to design and build a car of a strength and sturdiness more than adequate enough to meet the demands of a higher compression motor. For example, the Chrysler car is built with an unusually powerful, bridge-like crankcase webbing and with a staunch, firmly supported seven-bearing crankshaft, both of which are of fundamental importance.

This newly developed engine and assembly is distinctly different from the ordinary engine and is a development which has been made practical through the wider distribution of higher grade motor fuels.

Just what happens when a high compression cylinder head is used can be explained simply. In any gasoline engine, the down stroke of the piston pulls a certain volume of gas into the cylinder. The intake valve closes. Then the piston rises, compressing the gas. In the average gasoline engine the compression ratio is near four to one—which means that the charge is compressed to one-fourth the space it occupied when the piston was at its lowest point. When the charge is fully compressed—when the piston is at the top of its stroke—and the charge is fired, the gas will expand to four times the space it occupied when compressed. At the bottom of the stroke the exhaust valve opens and the burned gas escapes.

In the development of the original Chrysler engine, Chrysler engineers were able to so perfect the design which had to do with the utilizing of fuel, that they were able to employ a higher compression ratio. In the higher compression motor the volume of gas drawn into the cylinder was almost exactly the same.

Today the Chrysler Corporation announces an even higher compression engine.

The principle of high compression is easily understood. The tighter you pack the powder charge in a muzzle loading gun the greater the force given the bullet. Similarly, the tighter gasoline vapor and air are compressed in the combustion chamber—the space between the top of the cylinder and the top of the piston—before ignition, the greater the power from the explosion.

It is a fundamental fact that the amount of power which can be obtained from gasoline increases as the compression of the motor is raised. Consequently with engines of higher compression a considerable increase in fuel economy is noticeable.

The Chrysler "Red-Head" engine is available to all owners of Chrysler six-cylinder cars produced since July, 1925.

Lower Prices On Stock Market, Is Coolidge Effect

Wall Street Opening Today Reflects Result Of Coolidge Decision.

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—A sharp decline in prices of the leading speculative stocks was Wall Street's first reaction to Mr. Coolidge's withdrawal from the presidential race.

When the market opened today, the street had its first opportunity to appraise the real effect of the President's statement.

The widest break at opening was in Du Pont De Nemours, which dropped 16 points to 280 on the first block of 4700 shares. General Motors lost 7 points when the stock sold at 222; United States Steel lost about 3½ points, and American Smelting 3 points.

The sharp rally which followed the opening reaction, however, reflected Wall Street's confidence in the industrial and financial conditions at the present time, regardless of political evelopments. Before the end of the first half hour the leaders in both the industrial and railroad groups had recovered 3 to 5 points.

Wall Street generally shared the convictions of its banking leaders, that President Coolidge would most likely be "drafted" to another term in the presidential office. Charles Mitchell, President of the national City Bank, summarized the Wall Street position:

Servant Of People

"Throughout his career the President has proved himself the servant of the people he has sensed their will and obeyed it. His personal choice is not to run for another term. But what is the choice of the people in this regard? May not that be the controlling factor?"

At all events, bullish forces asserted themselves in no uncertain manner and such was the deluge of buying orders that stocks were pushed forward briskly from the opening levels in one of the most spectacular movements ever seen in the financial district.

United States Steel Common, which opened for the day at 134½, a loss of 3 points from Tuesday's close, promptly recovered to 136½, while Du Pont jumped spectacularly from 280 to 292. The latter representing a loss of only 3½ points from the previous close. Timken Roller Bearing moved up from 133 to 139½; General Motors from 222 to 229.

That the stock market did not "break wide open" is generally regarded as an excellent tribute to the fundamental soundness of the financial structure of the country as a whole. The rising market of the last few months has gradually eliminated the short interest, and, despite unprecedented valuations for representative stocks, has brought about a wide distribution of the better grade stocks among American investors. Holdings of this character are not "thrown on the market" in panicky conditions on the first sign of the shift of the political winds. On the other hand, Wall Street experts stated that thousands of investors have been waiting for just such an opportunity as was presented today for the purchase of their favorite stocks.

Chicago To Ban Gypsy Aviators

Investigation Of Unlicensed Flyers Follow Seven Deaths In Nine Days

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—As "Gypsy Aviators"—flying without license—brought Chicago's air death toll to seven within nine days, county authorities invoked police powers to end a series of air crashes.

Within a mile of the spot where two other fliers leaped to death from a flaming plane last Saturday, two amateur pilots lost control of the rusty plane, purchased a few hours earlier, and dropped 200 feet to earth, and death last night.

William Quase, 26, and John Hubly, 25, were the victims. Quase was taking Hubly up to teach him to fly, it is believed. When the controls became jammed, the student became panicky and grabbed the control stick throwing the plane into a nose dive. The plane barely skimmed the roof of the home of a farmer before its fall.

Hubly, a taxi-driver had bought the plane with some fellow chauffeurs for $1,000 after investing $95 in flying lessons. Both men were married and each had one child.

Lumber Town Plans "Come Back" In Old Home Week Program

(International News Service)

COUDERSPORT, Pa., Aug. 3.—Cross Fork, in Lower Potter county is planning a "comeback."

The town, which has dwindled from 4,000 to less than 100 persons with the passing of the lumber industry in that vicinity made its first strenuous efforts to bring industries and enterprises to Cross Fork when it staged an old home week which attracted thousands of former residents and their friends.

Situated in the heart of the Black Forest the vicinity abounds in bass and trout, elk, deer and bear and Cross Fork boosters hope that hunters attracted by game, may be "sold" on the locality for business. The state maintains a camping site nearby also.

As the lumber industry waned the town's prosperity went with it, many of the residents having their houses torn down and shipped out of the community.

Governor Smith Is Not Interested In Coolidge Statement

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Governor Al Smith of New York, potential Democratic candidate, is "not interested" in President Coolidge's decision to retire from the 1928 race.

Asked for a comment today at his suite in the Biltmore here, Smith replied:

"I am not interested. It is a matter that President Coolidge must decide for himself."

The governor refused to make any further comment.

THOUSAND HERE SEE AVIATOR ON PITTSBURGH TRIP

a few minutes the silver plane flew over the west side toward the south side. Five minutes late "We" returned and as his plane appeared in sight "The Spirit of St. Louis" flew above East Washington street, the altitude of the plane being only 50 above the Leslie House.

As he dove toward the ground he pulled the stick and swooped upward, dropping a message on the diamond and clearing the steeple of the First Christian church by a scant 25 feet. As he journeyed toward the west side he turned again and darted like a bird for Pittsburgh where "We" is to appear in the sky this afternoon.

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 3. — A flag bedecked city waited the arrival today of "We"—Col. Charles Lindbergh and his famous "Spirit Of St. Louis."

The trans-Atlantic flier and his plane were scheduled to arrive here from Cleveland, O., at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The first New York-to-Paris aviator was to land at Bettis Field, McKeesport, where a huge crowd, expected to reach 200,000 or more was expected to be present.

From Bettis Field "Lindy" was to be taken across the Monongahela down through the central part of Pittsburgh out to the Pittburgh University stadium where it was planned to drive the famous air mail pilot around the cinder track once.

City officials promised to open the stadium gates at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, giving everyone anxious to see Lindbergh an opportunity to gaze on him at close range.

Lindbergh will speak for a few minutes in response to an address of welcome by Mayor Charles H. Kline.

After the speaking and demonstrations, Lindbergh will be driven back to the William Penn Hotel where a banquet will be given in his honor.

During the banquet, Mayor Kline will present the flier with a gold medal—a gift from the City of Pittsburgh. A replica of the medal will be given each guest at the dinner.

Lindbergh's welcome, and banquet speeches will be broadcast.

SPIRITED CONTEST FOR LEGION COMMANDER FEATURE 9th CONCLAVE

ica he became active in the work of the American Legion. He has been vice commander of his own Post seven consecutive terms.

E. E. Hollenback, a member of Benjamin Franklin Post, Philadelphia, and Grand Chef De Gare of the Societe Des 40 Hommes Et 8 Chevaux in Pennsylvania, is expected to be one of the strongest candidates in the field. It is reported he will have the united support of 118 Philadelphia county delegates. Other candidates whose supporters predict will make a strong bid, and whose chances of election are seriously considered are Donald Zimmerman, Shamokin; Dr. R. J. Sagerson, Johnstown, and Charles Lane, of Pittsburgh.

Zimmerman's friends are jubilant over the fact that a strong fight is expected, it being their hope that split delegations may win for the Shamokin man. Lane is reported to have the backing of at least 75 Pittsburgh delegates.

the first official meeting of the Legion will be held this evening when State Commander Robert N. Vail will meet with the State Executive Board at the Department's headquarters in the Yorktowne hotel.

Regular sessions open tomorrow morning in the auditorium of the new million dollar William Penn High School. Because of heavy traffic, incident to the convention, Mayor E. S. Hugentugler, of York, today assigned a squad of ten special policemen to traffic duty.

Original Copy Of Gettysburg Dirge Found In Old Home

(International News Service)

GETTYSBURG Pa., Aug .3.—One of the original copies of the dirge sung by a quartet at the exercise in connection with the dedication of the National cemetery here on November 19, 1863, has been discovered in an old home here. It is to be republished.

The dirge was sung just after President Lincoln made his immortal address and preceded the benediction.

"The handwriting of the rising generation is always deteriorating."—C. Stephen.

Insanity Increasing Among Business And Professional Men

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 3.—Insanity is steadily increasing today among business and professional men until it has reached a point where medical men have been forced to launch a stubborn fight against the malady, Dr. Hubley R. Owen, noted police and fire surgeon says.

"Unless more drastic steps are taken soon to combat this new danger Dr. Owen asserts," it will become as great a menace as cancer and other insidious diseases.

"We are constantly working with nerves keyed to the highest pitch, and unless there is a certain amount of relaxation, a heavy toll is exacted," he says.

"This toll takes the form of insanity and so great is the toll that laymen are astounded by the amazing inroads made by this disease in the past few years."

This is one of the great problems facing the medical profession today, he asserted. Dr. Owen urged the business men to take more exercise and relax more often as a preventative.

USE OF COTTON AT RECORD PEAK

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 3.—The world consumption of American cotton during the season ended with the close of July was fixed at 17,428,000 bales in the annual report of Secretary Henry G. Hester, of the New Orleans Exchange today.

The world's consumption, Hester said, had never before reached 17,000,000 bales. Correspondingly, cotton consumption in the southern states, including linters, was largest ever known.

Southern consumption was fixed at 5,471,391 bales, 692,465 more than was consumed last year and 1,091,273 more than the previous year.

Secretary Hester said the enormous cotton consumption was largely due to the use of relatively cheap, low grade cotton which to a considerable extent was substituted for other growths by mills and other consumers. He added that the world had taken virtually all the American cotton it could get. Exports amounted to 11,250,000 bales, he said, and the takings by American mills north and south, totaled about 8,250,000 bales.

The consumption, he said, had virtually absorbed the great crop of the past year, when 19,100,000 bales were produced.

Farmers Advised To Plan Markets Early

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 3. — Farmers who expect heavy crops this fall should plan now for successful marketing, the state department of markets warned today. The course of successful business organizations which plan for sale of their products years ahead was cited as an example for Pennsylvania farmers.

"What plans to make depends upon the sale," the bureau explains. "If direct selling to consumers is followed, plans for keeping regular customers informed and for securing new customers is worth considering. When advertising space is to be used, it is well to be thinking about the papers which will be selected, and the nature of the statement to be carried.

"When selling directly from the orchard of farm, time can be saved by planning ahead to place signs and posters at the roadside and other places to inform the public.

"When selling to jobbers, wholesalers or retailers, it is good business to make arrangements with them well in advance of the time when the products will be ready for marketing.

"Having an adequate supply of proper containers for taking care of the different types of trade is another mark of bood business.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS
BY MRS. MARY MORTON

MENU HINT

In many families potatoes are served two or three times a day without any effort to vary the monotony. Sometimes, of course, the family prefers their potatoes to any other bland vegetable. There are substitutes, however, among them macaroni, rice, navy beans, etc. In the following menu I am using rice instead of potatoes. If you cook as per directions there will be no water to throw away and the grains will be separate and flaky.

Creamed Chicken Rice
Pineapple Salad Huckleberry Pie
Coffee or Tea.

TODAY'S RECIPES

Rice—Take a quart of water and heat until it is boiling briskly. Season with one teaspoon salt. Into this pour three-fourths of a cup of well washed rice and keep it boiling briskly uncovered for 20 minutes or until the rice has absorbed the water. Shake it lightly and put it in the oven for a moment to dry.

Huckleberry Pie—Make a good pie crust, roll out and put in tin. Sprinkle with flour and sugar, put in the well-washed and picked over berries, sweeten with more sugar and dot with bits of butter, put on upper crust, make vents for air to escape and bake.

SUGGESTIONS
For Tiny Candles.

Individual salt or nut dishes make splendid holders for tiny candles to be used on occasions when one likes to have a candle at each place or in groups on the table.

Just melt a tiny bit of the end of the candle and set it in the nut cup firmly. It will make a candle holder which will also hold the melted wax as the candle burns.

Soda Water Straws.

A bundle of straws, such as are used at soda fountains, are convenient and sanitary to feed liquids to the sick child. They can be burned after using and there is no danger of breakage, as with glass tubes. Children will ofttimes take nourishment thru a fascinating straw when otherwise it would mean a difficult task.

Negroes In Capital Tell Of Segregation

"Jim Crow Tactics Flourish," They Say, While Secretary Work Is Away

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—"Segregation is spreading in the Government bureau here and President Coolidge offers no remedy as the Jim Crow tactics flourish," Negro leaders of Washington assert. "The Pension Bureau of the Interior Department is the latest office to inaugurate this vicious practice."

It is charged that four Negro examiners on July 19 were removed from the floor on which they had contact with white examiners because of their color. These were the Rev. Wallace McCary, E. L. Webster, Pierro Albert and Examiner Coombs. They were the last of twenty-five Negro examiners to go.

Negroes protesting against this treatment explain that while Secretary Work is out of the city the Jim Crow program is being speeded up.

Commenting on the situation the Washington Tribune, Negro paper, says: "During the Harding and Coolidge Administration more segregation has been practiced than during the eight years of President Wilson's reign. While many protests have been made to President Coolidge, he has continually refused to do anything to remedy the situation.

FAREWELL PARTY.

Mrs. Earl Bigley, Hutchison street, entertained at a farewell party in her home Tuesday afternoon in honor of Miss Melvina Taylor who left today for her home in Eckford, Mich. Games and music were pastimes of the afternoon. Refreshments were served later in the dining room where covers were arranged for 16 little guests. The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. Harry Sweesy.

The guests included Thais Brunton, Florrine Longstreth, Dorothy Taylor, Eileen Evans, Mary Ellen Gettings, Alma Longstreth, Doris Patterson, Della Collins, Betty Lee Bigley, Frances Patterson, Melvia Taylor, Maxine Bigley, Paul Wsieman, James Patterson, and Billy Bigley.

A woman has never spoiled anything through silence.

MRS. COOLIDGE AT WEDDING

Miss Dorothy Mondell, daughter of Frank Mondell, former Republican floor leader of the national house of representatives, had Mrs. Coolidge as one of the guests at her marriage at Newcastle, Wyo., to Alexander C. Gregg, "boy tax wonder" and solicitor of the Internal Revenue Bureau. Left to right: Bishop Thomas of the Newcastle Episcopal church, Mrs. Coolidge and the bride and the bridegroom.

Squad Of 40 Men To Attend Training Camp Of University

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 3.—The University of Pennsylvania football squad will leave here for its training camp at Sea Girt, N. J., on September 6.

The training period will extend to September 19, when the gridders are due to return home to Franklin field, four days before the opening game with Franklin and Marshall.

A squad of 40 men will make the trip. Fifteen lettermen have been lost during the year, and Coach Lou Young faces the task of virtually rebuilding the line and backfield for the exceptionally hard program ahead.

Widow Sues Railroad For Husband's Death

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 3.—Gertrude E. Linquist filed a suit today against the Erie Railroad Co., asking $50,000 for the death of her husband while employed as a fireman on the Erie railroad.

The plaintiff alleges that on August 21, 1925, Linquist was thrown from his locomotive on a bridge near Cambridge, Ohio, and that he dropped through the bridge, and was killed. It is alleged that his death was due to defective fire hooks which he was adjusting preparatory to firing the engine. The plaintiff has a minor child.

How City's New Sewage Disposal Plant Takes Care Of Waste Matter

Do you know that the new sewage disposal plant, located south of the city, takes care of more than 3,000 gallons of the city's waste matter each minute, or more than 4,000,000 gallons a day?

As the plant was started last fall, it is not in very good working order yet, because of the low temperature of water with which the city engineer has to contend. And then, he complains of the surface water leakage into the system, which has kept the temperature of the water low all summer. Digestion, he claims, will not take place in cold water, and the cost of raising the water to the desired temperature would be too great to consider.

One screen chamber handles all influent to the plant. From the screen chamber, the sewage passes to six Imhoff tanks, 24x72x30 feet deep, in which the solid matter sinks to the bottom of the tanks, and the water passes off. These tanks take out between 98 and 99½ percent of all the settlable solids. In each of these tanks there is .2 of a foot of solid matter, or sludge, deposited each

The sludge then falls by gravity to a pumping chamber, where it is forced onto the drying beds by a pump. There it is left to dry before it is hauled away.

Some farmers claim that there is no better fertilizer than this sludge, and some of the plants charge for it, while others give it to the farmers for hauling it away. However, some of the sludge is left in the tanks, and in the Imhoff basins for seed. This treated sludge acts like yeast on bread dough, and helps to purify the next batch of sludge, due to the germ action.

Twenty four beds, each 100x20 feet take care of the drying of the sludge.

The waste matter which this plant takes care of it is not chlorinated, because the Mahoning river, in which it flows, is not used for drinking water, and before the matter gets more than two miles from the plant, the oxygen in the water thoroughly purifys it.

But the main trouble, the engineer says, is to get digestion started, especially if the plant is a new one. Sometimes this can be done in six weeks to two months, and again, it may take a year or two. And as each plant in the entire country is different, because it works under different conditions, no time limit can be set to the local plant.

Gasses which rise from the vents at the side of the Imhoff tanks are now wasted, but in time they are going to be used to heat the plant. In some cities the gasses are sold to the local gas companies and piped directly into the mains, because this gas has a higher heating factor than does coal gas.

The grounds about the plant are being seeded and graded, and in the next two or three years, when the plant gets into normal operation and there is no odor, it is the plan of the engineer to have these grounds used for a park and a picnic ground. One of the most beautiful parks in Philadelphia is the ground surrounding one of the sewage disposal plants.

There are as many plants of the Imhoff tank type in the country as all other plants combined. It must be remembered that the local system is a manufacturing plant; it takes in raw material and turns out a finished product.

Third U. P. Church Nearing Completion

Carpenters Are Now Busy Laying Oak Floors In Structure

Work on the Third U. P. church, corner of E. Washington and Adams streets, is rapidly nearing completion as carpenters are preparing to lay the final oak floor on the auditorium.

Throughout, the structure will be early Gothic, finished in weathered oak. Flying buttresses help support the sides of the church, and the ceiling of the auditorium is groined with weathered oak panels.

At present the different organizations of the church are purchasing furnishings for the different Sunday school rooms, and already a committee from the Y. L. B. class has selected furnishings for the pastor's study. The committee of the Woman's Missionary society will select furnishings for the women's parlor.

When finished the auditorium and the balcony, which opens through the entrance of the church, will seat 960 persons, and the pews are expected to be here in the near future.

As yet, work on the installation of the pipe organ has not commenced, as all of the parts have not arrived from the factory in Hagerstown, Md.

Last week the lighting fixtures were ordered from the Bartley Electric company and electricians are expected to begin hanging them within the week.

Back of the pulpit there will be a two chamber organ loft, beneath which the choir will sit.

To the rear of the church are the many Sunday school rooms and the Sunday school library.

Protest Abandoning Of Wolf Creek Branch To Courtney's Mills

GROVE CITY, Pa., Aug. 3.—The Grove City Commercial Club held its regular monthly meeting Monday evening at the Commercial Club rooms. In the absence of President R. E. English, Mr. E. B. Harshaw presided. A resolution was passed to send to the Public Service Commission at Harrisburg requesting the maintainence of the railroad service of the P. R. R. from Mine No. 5 to Courtney's Mills. There has been news of the removal of this service which would withdraw the means of getting materials to Liberty township for building roads. It is hoped that the service may be had for at least a year to enable the township to obtain the necessary materials. Norman Patterson reported that the Public Service Commission refused the proposed bus line from Grove City to Pittsburgh via Harlansburg. Action was also taken to secure advertising for the annual cattle show to be held in September.

Confession Says Doctor Fired Shot That Killed Man

(International News Service)

COURTHOUSE, FRANKLIN, La., Dr. Thomas E. Dreher, fired the shots that ended the life of James Leboeuf, at Morgan City, the confession of James Beadle, made public here Tuesday by Sheriff Charles Pecot, alleged.

Beadle unexpectedly turned state's witness yesterday after assertions by members of his family that Dr. Dreher was trying to make him "the goat" in the charges of first degree murder against Dreher, Beadle and Mrs. Ada Leboeuf, for which the trio are being tried.

"On July 1, late in the afternoon, Dr. Dreher came to my house and asked me to go out with him hunting, which I did," Beadle's confession said. "When we got well advanced out in that pasture he told me he had come out here to kill that ——Jim Leboeuf. I said 'No, doctor, don't do that.' He said, 'Yes, I am going to do it, and if you open your mouth about this I am going to kill you'. And he made me pull the boat until we met that man Jim Lebeouf.

Everybody Urged To Attend Fair

Every resident of Lawrence county should spend at least one day at the New Castle Fair, which will be held this year on September 27, 28, 29 and 30.

Few citizens of this community realize what the fair means to them. This fair, our home exhibition, is widely known. People from other parts of Pennsylvania as well as from other parts of the country, attend this celebration every year and pass favorable comment on it wherever they go.

Do you know that if this great fair was located a long distance from your home, you would all take the time and willingly travel and expend the necessary money to see it? And yet, important as it is and cheap as it is, there are many of our home folks who have not attended it.

Civic pride should bring forth every citizen of this country on one of these fair days, at least.

The management of this fair has worked hard to bring this community enterprise to its present high standing and it will continue its efforts in this direction, but work and plan as they may a great success can only be achieved through the co-operation of the people.

If every citizen in Lawrence county would attend this year's celebration for only one day, what prominence our great fair would gain.

Let us make our 1927 fair the greatest yet—and everyone turn out, for one afternoon at least.

School Checks Are Mailed Out

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 3.—State Treasurer Samuel S. Lewis yesterday mailed checks totaling $5,658,797 to 2,342 fourth class school districts as their semi-annual payments from state funds. Twenty-eight districts failed to receive checks because the necessary reports had not been received from the county superintendents.

REPORTS ACCIDENT

V. F. Wimer of Portersville, reported Tuesday to the police that he was driving south on North Mercer street near North street, when a car bearing Pennsylvania license X 7517 pulled out from the curb without warning and ran into and damaged his machine.

Nothing makes a girl laugh at a joke like pretty front teeth.

Annual Wild Flower Day At Mercer M. E. Church Next Sunday

MERCER, Pa., Aug. 3—The annual wild flower day which has been an institution of the Methodist Episcopal church for a number of years, will be observed on next Sunday. The day was founded by the late Dr. R. F. Randolph for several years pastor of the local church and an enthusiastic lover of nature and everything pertaining to the great outdoors. Following his death the Randolph Young Men's Bible Class adopted the day as a memorial to Dr. Randolph for whom the class was named and with but two or three interruptions, have held the event each year.

Specimens of the different wild flowers native to this part of the state are placed on exhibition and present a most attractive show and it is educational as many flowers common to this section are viewed for the first time by many.

The public is invited to the service which takes place at 11 o'clock.

Baird Circle Official From Sharon Installs

Officials For Coming Term Installed At Meeting Of Baird Circle Last Night.

R. G. Baird Of Sharon Gives Address At Well-Attended Meeting Of Circle.

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 3.—R. G. Baird, supreme auditor of the Baird circle, Protected Home Circle, which met last evening in their lodge rooms in the First National bank building, installed the following officers to act for the coming term: Past president, Clarence Webster; president, Mrs. Pearl Dougherty; vice president, Andrew Funk; guardian, Mrs. Paul Forsythe; chaplain, Mrs. Jessie Means; guide, Mrs. Anna Swick; companion, Mrs. Jennie Billig; sentinel, Miss Lillian Anderson, and watchman, Mrs. Donnabelle Miller.

At the conclusion of the installation R. G. Baird gave an interesting address on lodge work, and the meeting was made further enjoyable by two duets by Sam Heywood and his daughter Miss Rebeccah of Sharon. They were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Irene Main.

Out-of-town visitors at the meeting were: Dr. and Mrs. Baird, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Heywood and daughter Miss Rebeccah, Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Heywood and D. K. Shepperd of Sharon, Mrs. Blanch Canfield of New Castle. The meeting concluded with delicious refreshments served by the committee in charge which was headed by Mrs. Iva Garwig.

School Board Has Short Session

Board Approves Tax Collector's Bond For 1927 Collection Of Taxes

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., August 3.—The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education conducted a brief session last evening in the Board room in the Lincoln school building.

T. A. E. McConaghy, the tax collector was present and showed that he had almost all the 1926 school taxes in, and presented his bond of surety for $40,000 which was approved by the board.

Secretary Hancher introduced the tax summary for the year as follows:

Club Surprises Bribe-To-Be With Shower At Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 3.—Miss Helen Leibendorfer, who expects to become the bride of Max Ewing September 10, was delightfully surprised at the regular semi-monthly meeting of the Modern Bridge club last evening at the home of the Misses Helen and Mary Zeigler on Spring avenue. No intimation of the surprise was awaiting Miss Leibendorfer at the first of the evening, and the regular series of bridge games was enjoyed, with special guests being Mrs. Ralston Zeigler, Mrs. Ralph Evans, Miss Ruth Gimmel, Miss Betty Sowrey and Miss Gertrude Hill. High score honors went to Mrs. Ralston Zeigler and Mrs. Ralph Evans.

Just after the high score favors had been awarded, the door bell pealed shrilly and there came a voice asking prematurely for Mrs. Max Ewing. When Miss Leibendorfer wonderingly responded there was a huge bag adorned with bright hued tags with various witty sentiments thereon, full of lovely gifts for the new apartment which will be occupied by the bride and groom in the Kellar building at the conclusion of the honeymoon. The honor guest was completely overcome. There is an old saying that the giver of the seventh package to be opened at a shower for a bride will be the next bride. The seventh package opened last night was that given by Miss Helen Zeigler.

Club members present were the Misses Tess Miller, Velma Aiken, Mary Elizabeth Turner, Mary Sakrada, Ann Rosenkeimer, Claire Smith, Helen Leibendorfer, Agnes Weiscoph, Helen and Mary Zeigler, Josephine Humphrey, Edrye Moyer and Mary Mitchell of New Castle.

Loud Speaker Squawks Sparrows Quit Orchard

Ordinary scarecrows will frighten away almost any sort of bird that damages crops but common street variety sparrows are no respecters of scarecrows. Discovering this to his sorrow, Gustav Schmitz, owner of a huge orchard near Hornburg, Germany, has been in despair during the past few days, according to the Chicago Tribune, and could only stand by and watch his fruit devoured by hungry hordes of pesky little birds until he thought of his radio. Moving a raucous loud speaker into the orchard and turning the amplifier on his set up to its fullest pitch he defeated the birds with the first blast of radio sound and at last reports the orchard was still clear.

There Will Soon Take Place An Event That Is Unmistakably

—More than a sale
—More than a mercenary effort to sell merchandise

It is our aim to have this event prove a direct benefit to the people —and add to personal incomes.

If you could see behind the scenes here in the store—and see receiving and warehouse overflowing with new goods—see with your own eyes such preparations—enthusiasm—hustle and action such as few stores in New Castle have ever known—then you too would know and feel that a sale of great magnitude is about to take place.

In all our 14 years, no sale like this. Watch papers for particulars.

Young Wear Discs About Ankle; Older About Wrist

Observers at the Glenn bathing pool, Cascade park, have had their notice attracted not only by the fairy-like forms which glide through the pure, clean water, but also by the manner in which various persons wear the metal discs, or identification tags.

For instance the girl of the flapper type and the young men who aspire to be a sheik wear the disc about their ankles while the older persons place it around their wrists.

The metal disc makes as high as a dozen trips into and from the pool each day and it adorns the ankles and wrists of various persons.

When a person enters the bathhouse check room he or she is given two discs, one for the ankle or wrist and the other to identify their clothing.

"Being a disc is a tough job," said one of the metal pieces yesterday. "Here I am, strapped about a young girl's ankle and everybody seems to be staring at me."

The disc went on to say that as far as it is concerned it makes small difference to it whether it is worn on an ankle or a wrist—excepting that no one looks at a wrist.

There are all sorts of persons who take their "daily dip" at the Glenn pool. Some have forms like Venus while some men run rival to Hercules.

And still some other forms are not quite so beautiful but, according to the observer, there are few bathers who "sit it out" and when they go bathing they all enter the water.

Powerized Farms Almost Doubled

A just published report upon farm electrification shows that there has been an increase of 86.6 per cent during the last year, notwithstanding the fact that this was a rather depressive year to most farmers. As an agrarian accomplishment this steps out in the front rank of progress on the farm. It is expressive of a determination to apply economical rather than political methods to the solution of farming problems.

At this rate of increase, the report goes on to say, there will be 1,000,000 American farms equipped with electrical service by the end of 1932. Estimating upon that same basis, there will be three times than many, or nearly one-half of all the farms in this country electrified by the end of 1938. The power of example and competitive necessity doubtless can be depended up for an even more rapid rate of electrification from that time on.

Chance To Swim At Ben Franklin

Children Between Ages 10 And 15 Years Get Pool Thursday

Through the courtesy of the school board and Mrs. Robinson, who conducts the McCleary avenue bathing beach of the city, children of the city between the ages of 10 and 15 years, will be afforded the opportunity on Thursday morning of learning to swim in the Ben Franklin Junior High School pool.

This is for children between those ages, who are unable to swim. All that will be required of these youthful aspirants of swimming, is to be on hand between those hours at the place designated and have soap, towel, bathing suit and a determination to learn to swim. There will be no charge of any kind.

Mrs. Robinson is known as one of the ablest swimming instructors in the city and has endeavoring to increase the number of swimmers in the city at the McCleary avenue swimming beach as fast as possible, but owing to the great throngs attending and the number that attend, who are more or less proficient, the non-swimmers have been unable to get all the attention desired.

The school board and Mrs. Robinson through the medium of the Thursday morning activity are endeavoring to reach those children of the ages designated, who want to learn to swim and have been unable to do so.

The lessons at this time are not designed in any way for profit purposes for anyone and are actuated by the desire to benefit as many children of the city as possible.

HOMESTEAD GRAYS DEFEAT NEW CASTLE 7 TO 1

Britt Pitches Five-Hit Game

Hospidor Shelled Off Mound In First Inning By Visitors In Big Rally.

GRAHAM FEATURES WITH FOUR-HITS

Shelling Hospidor off the rubber in the first inning, with a four-run attack, the Homestead Grays defeated the New Castle-Youngstown team, here last night, at Centennial Field, by a score of 7 to 1. It was the third victory of the year for the Homestead Grays over the locals.

New Castle-Youngstown used a patched up lineup against the Grays last night. This might and it might not have had something to do with the outcome. McCullough, McCoy, and Greenae were missing. DeMont played third in place of McCullough and Bryan went behind the bat. Bernhlor, formerly with Butler, covered first base in place of McCoy.

The locals couldn't solve the tricky delivery of Mr. Britt, and several times when hits would have produced runs, the locals fell down on the job. Britt limited the locals to five hits and fanned two batters.

Rally in First

Manager Steen selected Hospidor to twirl against the Grays. The former Youngstown heaver was evidently not in condition, because the visitors hopped on his delivery for four hits that produced three runs. Jamieson relieved Hospidor before the first chapter was over. Jamieson held the Grays to six hits for the remainder of the game.

The Grays tallied two more runs in the seventh inning. Britt led off with a single, Graham flied to Dunn, Bernhlor fielded William's grounder and tossed to Jamieson for the put-out, Harris was given a walk, Washington tripled and Britt scored. Washington died on third when Hunt grabbed Spearman's high infield fly.

The New Castle-Youngstown team scored their lone tally in the final half of the eighth, Jamieson was tossed out by Britt, Hunt doubled to the left field fence, DeMont flied to Gray, Hunt tallied when Lawrence shot a single into left field. Feigert ended the inning by grounding out to B. Williams.

The Grays tallied their final run in the first of the ninth. Britt was thrown out by Lawrence, Graham tripled to right field, B. Williams singled and Graham scored. Williams was later thrown out at second by Bernhlor.

Clem General was back in the New Castle lineup last night, doing patrol duty in right-field in the absence of McCullough, with DeMont covering third. General failed to hit, but had two putouts in the field. "Bunny" Bernhlor formerly with Butler playing his first game for New castle looked the part of a real first-sacker, but failed to connect with the ball at the plate. Bernhlor handled fifteen chances at first without an error.

Washington and Graham were the feature hitters for the visitors, while Lawrence, Hunt and Jamieson had the hits for the locals.

EDENBURG AND TROOP B TIE

Edenburg and Troop B played a tie game at Coaltown field on Tuesday night. The game was halted in the sixth inning on account of darkness. The score was 3-3.

The Edenburg team had the game in the bucket in the sixth frame when they scored five runs, but the Troopers did not have a chance to bat in the final half of the sixth inning, with the score reverting back to the fifth chapter.

Coates on the mound for the Edenburg team pitched a fine game, and in addition hammered out a home run and triple. Honkonen on the hill for the Troopers also hurled a fine game.

Dalberg's catch of a terrific liner ticketed for a home run was one of the many features of the game.

Sheep Hill Wins From McCleary Juniors

Sheep Hill defeated McCleary Juniors 18 to 10 on the Sheep Hill grounds. In the second inning the Sheep Hill made nine runs. Chuck got a triple and Ovos, a double hurled against Winters. Ovos was hit 4 times by the McCleary Juniors while Winters was found six times.

Stecher Wins Wrestling Bout

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 3. — Joe Stecher, Nebraska's claimant of the world's heavyweight wrestling crown, had a better claim to the title today as a result of receiving a decision over George Calza of Italy here last night when Calza was unable to continue after both men fell from the ring. Calza struck his back on a chair and when he was unable to continue Stecher was awarded the match. The end came after one hour and 33 minutes of sensational wrestling during which Calza forced the pace.

The challenger was taken to the Samaritan hospital where physicians said today his condition was serious. X-ray pictures of his injuries will be made today.

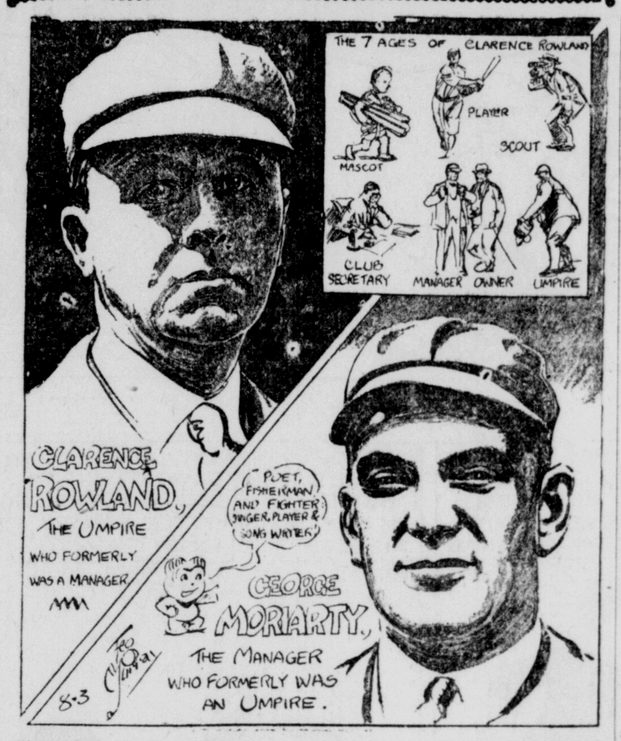

A crowd of 12,000 fans, the largest ever to view a wrestling match in this city, saw the match.

"We have been unfortunate if we have not known in our own experience more noble characters than could be gathered from all the books of our most popular novelists."—Dean Inge.

The reason so many don't get ahead of the game is they don't play.

Umpire-Managers

By Fez Murray

Give a look at two gentlemen who rank high in professional baseball, one of whom is now rated as an umpire, but who formerly gained fame as a manager, and the other as a manager who formerly was famous as an umpire. Clarence Rowland, American league arbiter, was boss of the Chicago White Sox who won the American league pennant and the world's championship in 1917, defeating the New York Giants. George Moriarty, on the other hand, was for many years an indicator man in the younger circuit, and now, as Ty Cobb's successor as manager of the Detroit Tigers, he looms big on the baseball horizon because of the successful way he has been piloting his club.

To get back to Mr. Rowland, it must be said, and to his everlasting credit, that he not only has quite successfully lived down the name of Clarence, but also the fact that he came from Dubuque. Mr. Moriarty, on the other hand, has been forced to live down the fact that he is a song writer. It is even rumored that he has published a few verses, but if you pick a fight with him on the strength of being poetical, you'll have a rude shock. Ask Ty Cobb.

Like that mysterious Mr. Mitchell, formerly of the Cubs and Braves, whose real name is Fred Yap, Clarence Rowland has occupied about every position in organized baseball. Whereas Mitchell was a pitcher, catcher, coach, manager and president, Rowland has been a mascot, player, scout, secretary, manager, club owner and umpire. There should be little about baseball that Rowland doesn't know, and he is a very popular umpire, too. And from the way the song writer's Tigers are going, it must be admitted that the ex-umpire knows quite a bit about the business of managing.

S. Zidow Hurls Three-Hit Game As Indies Cinch Twilight League Flag

The Lawrence Independents cinched the pennant in the Twilight League, last night at the Cedar street grounds, by toppling the South Hills aggregation, by a score of 3 to 1.

Steve Zidow on the knoll for the champions allowed the South Hill boys but three hits and fanned two men. Mehalic on the hill for the losers limited the Indies to five-hits and fanned seven batters.

The Indies bunched their hits in the fourth and fifth frames to secures their victory. Russu featured the game by socking out a home run drive. Price had the only other extra base blow of the game, a double.

Hill Gives Way To Dawson And Greenfield Wins For Braves.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 3.—Apparently not satisfied with having knocked the Pirates from first place in the National league the Braves presented a 5 to 2 stab to Donie Bush and his cripples at Forbes field Tuesday afternoon. The Cubs won and have tightened their grasp on first place.

Kent Greenfield, the big Giant discard, added new honors when he hurled the entire game with only two days' rest and while he was outbatted his right-hand offerings were bitter medicine for the Pirates.

Hill started the game for the Pirates and his own error started his downfall and added him to the crippled list. Likewise Gooch. Ralph Dawson took Hill's place and performed brilliantly. Hill has a wrenched knee and Gooch a bruised finger on his right hand.

The team that met the Braves was a switched about affair, L. Waner playing in left and Cuyler going to his old job in center. Jim Welsh, cleanup man for Boston, got two doubles and a single while Brown got away with two safe blows.

Printers Defeat Mail Carriers In Fast Game 12 To 2

The New Castle News Printers team after being buffeted around like a feather in a hurricane for the past several weeks came to life last night at the Croton grounds and upset the dope bucket by toppling the Mail Carriers 12 to 2.

The Printers meant business last night, and in the first inning gave vent to their feelings by hammering out a pair of runs. A seven-run rally in the second frame gave the Printers a big advantage.

Nickels on the knoll for the Printers was effective and turned in a two-hit game. He fanned eight batters. Wilson on the mound for the "mail toters" permitted 11 safe blows.

Gresham, Cramer and Nickels were the best hitters for the Printers, with Clark and Hay having the two hits credited to the losers.

HORNSBY "FLOP" AS GIANT RIVAL OF RUTH

McGRAW PROVES THAT THERE'S ONLY ONE "BABE"

BABE RUTH LACING ONE OUT AND—AT RIGHT HORNSBY.

There is no counter attraction for Babe Ruth. John McGraw found that out.

It cost him what is estimated at from $275,000 to $300,000 to find it out.

He put over the biggest baseball deal in history in a vain effort to "promote" a counter irritant. He traded Frankie Frisch, brilliant young infielder and Jimmy Ring a pitcher of world series fame, for Rogers Hornsby, manager and star infielder of the first world's championship team St. Louis ever had and the greatest batter in the National league. And with but one end in view—to coax some of the thousands of Yankee fans to the Polo grounds to watch the Giants.

Hornsby came. He saw.

The New York fans saw him too.

But to a man they are swearing their allegiance to Babe Ruth—Behemoth of Swat—the greatest home run hitter the world has ever known.

The Giant attendance swelled momentarily. Yankee fans went to the Polo grounds a few times to see Hornsby in action—as they would to take in any appearance of a notable. Having seen him once they went back to Babe Ruth.

This is no wild statement of fact. The relative attendance at the Giant park and the Yankee stadium proves it.

True the failure of the Giants with the added strength of Hornsby at bat and afield, to step into the vanguard of the pennant scramble and stay there killed some of the interest in the team. But this failure in itself explains the greatness of Ruth—and the reason for his popularity.

Babe Ruth ever since the day in 1919 when he first sprang into fame as a home run hitter, has been a magnet. His own personal popularity the mighty power of his drives, clicked the turnstiles of the Yankees through fat days and lean.

Ruth the Barometer.

The Yankees winning or losing were an attraction—because Babe Ruth was in the lineup. When he was forced out of the game through illness this was more apparent.

And, in addition to adding his bat to the offensive strength of the team Ruth has seemed to add the "spark" to the team's play. As the Babe has gone so have the Yankees fared.

By some odd appeal to the ordinary emotions Ruth was a drawing card in the days of his wildness, when his overt acts drew the wrath of the baseball powers and the censure of the critics. The fans went to see him play—to ride him—in those days.

Ruth was Ruth.

And still is.

The only man in baseball today who might rival him as a gate attraction is Lou Gehrig—his own teammate, and Ruth unintentionally has profited by Columbia Lou's rise to fame. The Babe's enthusiasm over Gehrig's showing has made the Babe more popular than ever—his magnanimity, if you will.

Hornsby Just Plays Part.

Meanwhile Hornsby has become but an individual in the Giant lineup. True he is the star attraction of the team. But set apart from the team he cannot be classed as a "drawing card" of any magnitude. There are many reasons for this. The main one is, however, the lack of personality—a popular appeal—which Ruth has apart from his home run hitting.

Hornsby tops Ruth in some departments of the game—base stealing, for instance.

Also in sacrifice hits.

The two run neck and neck in the total number of base hits.

Ruth leads in hitting percentages but by a substantial margin.

But these departmental averages have little to do with the relative drawing powers of the two.

Hornsby is just a great ball player.

Babe Ruth is a national institution.

And will be after he passes the crest.

Fans will go to see the Babe who was.

McGraw tried and lost.

There is no counter attraction for Ruth.

Committee On Finances Named By J. C. Miner

J. C. Miner chairman of the finance committee of the Pensylvania State Sabbath School association convention which is to be held in New Castle October 12, 13 and 14 has appointed the following members of his committee. H. T. Getty, New Wilmington; H. E. Marshall, Wampum; E. B. Hawkins, John Kennedy, Norman E. Clark treasurer of New Castle district; C. A. Martin treasurer of Ellwood district; W. M. Armstrong, treasurer of Wilmington district; W. E. McQuiston, treasurer, Pulaski district; Frank Hoffmeister, treasurer of Mahoning district; Finley Wilson, treasurer of Slippery Rock district; W. H. Stoner, treasurer of Plain Grove district, and Mrs. S. Hennon, treasurer of Wampum district.

The finance committee must raise $2,000 to take care of the local expenses of the convention and the expense delgated to the entertaining city by the state association. Of the $2,000, $1,058 has already been contributed by the churches of the county. Some churches have made pledges that have not as yet been paid and these churches are urged to send in their contributions at once. Also some of the districts have not as yet canvassed their churches and this should be done at an early date as it is hoped to have all the money raised at least one month before the state conventon convenes.

Any individual wishing to make a contribution to this convention fund is urged to send check or pledge to J. C. Miner, care Home Trust Company.

Snake's Third Attempt To Enter Home Is Fatal

LEWISTOWN, Pa., Aug. 3. — A blacksnake five and one-half feet in length made a desperate effort to enter the home of Fred W. Keifere, and lost its life.

The snake first attempted to enter the front door of the house and after being driven away made an effort at the side door. Again the snake was driven away. On the third attempt it succeeded in entering the cellar where it was killed.

Governor Fuller Springs Surprise

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Aug. 3.—Governor Alvan T. Fuller sprang a surprise today in his review of the case of Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti.

Announcement was made at the state house by William L. Reed, secretary of the executive council, that the scheduled meeting for that body at noon today was postponed until noon tomorrow.

The fact that Governor Fuller's decision in the Sacco-Vanzetti review is to be given out tonight and that the council meeting has been postponed until after the announcement of the decision, caused much speculation. State house observers were as much in the dark as ever on the nature of the decision but a majority thought that the council was to be consulted, which was taken to mean that the governor had decided to intervene.

HALL of FAME

Nominating.

Helen Jacobs.

Because she is one of our athletic Helens.

Because she has been steadily climbing in the tennis world the last couple of years and scored her greatest victory recently in defeating the experienced, crafty Molla Mallory, 6-0, 10-8 in the most sensational match of the American season.

Because the victory failed to disturb her poise, as was indicated by her consistant play the following day against her next opponent—a match which tossed her into the finals—against her neighbor Helen—Miss Wills.

Because, in going down to defeat before the marvelous Miss Poker Face, Miss Jacobs proved conclusively that she is to be reckoned as one of the younger generation upon whom rests the task of dethroning Miss Wills—if and when she is dethroned.

And because Miss Jacobs calmly awaits the national women's tourney—for her first chance to try her luck again.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN

Regardless of where the Tunney-Dempsey fight is held, New York or Chicago, the judge system will be used, the referee being "aided" in handling the battle, in case it goes the limit, by two judges sitting outside the ring.

There is absolutely no reason for continuing this system in handling heavyweight title bouts—or any other ring contests as a matter of fact.

The addition of two "competent officials" to aid the third man in the ring in deciding the relative showing of the principals merely complicates the situation. It does not clarify it. For the simple reason that rarely, if ever, do the three men agree on matters pertaining to the bout at hand. Their diversity of opinion simply adds to the general difference of opinion regarding the final outcome of a bout and—as in the case of Dempsey-Sharkey battle—feeds any unpleasant smudge left by debatable occurances.

The three officials, Referee Jack O'Sullivan and Judges Thomas Flynn and Charles F. Mathison, were not agreed and were not in complete accord on any angle of that battle.

The individual reports made to the State Athletic Commission by the three and the individual records they kept on the outcome of the rounds of the fight as they progressed proves this. The round by round divisions of the three were made public recently.

Fans recall, of course, that Referee Jack O'Sullivan did not consider that Dempsey had been hitting low enough to warrant awarding the battle to Sharkey on a foul. Mathison, in a written report to the commission after the fight, stated unqualifiedly that Dempsey had hit his opponent low three times "well below the belt."

Flynn, in his report stated that Dempsey struck Sharkey low twice in the seventh round, but not low enough to do any harm or cause his disqualification."

But that isn't the half of it.

Their round by round accounts, rendered to the commission also, showed that had the opinion of the two judges been asked on a given round at the close of that round they would have turned in Different opinions on every occasion. In other words Referee O'Sullivan would have had to have cast the deciding vote.

Herewith are offered the reports of the referee and the two judges, rendering each man's opinion of the outcome of each of the first six rounds. The knockout came in the seventh, of course.

Rd.	O'Sullivan	Mathison	Flynn
1	Even	Sharkey	Even
2	Even	Dempsey	Sharkey
3	Dempsey	Dempsey	Sharkey
4	Dempsey	Even	Sharkey
5	Sharkey	Sharkey	Dempsey
6	Even	Dempsey	Sharkey

A close scrutiny of the three reports furnishes more interesting officials. Ringside accounts of the three officials. Ringside accounts of the first round of the fight recounted how Sharkey lashed Dempsey with blows to the head. These accounts were correct. To us who saw the fight Dempsey seemed in for a beating. Sharkey's blows landed and bobbed Dempsey's head.

Yet the reports of the officials show that two of them called the round even and the third was the only man to give the younger man the shade.

The man in the ring—the man best qualified, by his position, if for no other reason, to render an opinion regarding any phase of the bout—called three of the hard fought rounds even, gave two to Dempsey and one to Sharkey.

Flynn gave four of the six rounds to Sharkey, one to Dempsey and called the first round even.

Hunter's License Raised To $2.00

MERCER, Pa., Aug. 3.—Hunter's licenses this year will cost $2.00 instead of $1.25 the amount assessed last year. It is announced at the county treasurers office that persons desiring a license by mail will be required to provide four cents postage, as the licenses this year are too heavy to go for two cents.

The county treasurers office reports the receipt of the first consignment of 1927 hunting licenses, 1,000 in number, and hunters desiring to hunt for ground hogs can now secure their licenses by applying at the county treasurers office.

MOOSE STEWARD FALLS 40 FEET

KANE, Pa., Aug. 3.—Henry Groll, 43, steward of the local Moose club, plunged from a third story window at the club is in a serious condition in the St. Mary's Hospital. Groll was attempting to open a window when the glass was shattered and he fell 40 feet to the lawn below.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

The Battle of Chickamauga.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

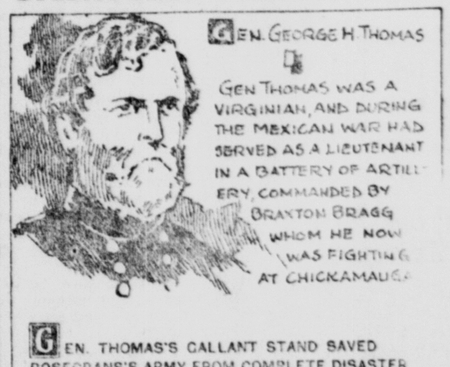

ON SEPT. 19, 1863, BRAGG HURLED HIS RIGHT WING AGAINST ROSECRANS' LEFT AT CHICKAMAUGA CREEK. THIS PART OF THE UNION LINE WAS COMMANDED BY GEN. GEORGE H. THOMAS, WHO HELD HIS GROUND FIRMLY AGAINST THE CONFEDERATE ASSAULTS. ROSECRANS SENT THOMAS HEAVY SUPPORTS, BUT IN DOING SO WEAKENED THE REST OF THE LINE.

THE NEXT DAY, WITHDRAWALS FROM THE FEDERAL CENTER TO STRENGTHEN THOMAS HAD LEFT A GAP IN ROSECRANS' LINE. SEEING HIS OPPORTUNITY TO STRIKE A DECISIVE BLOW, LONGSTREET SUDDENLY THREW 8 BRIGADES THROUGH THIS OPENING. DRIVEN BEFORE THE CONFEDERATE CHARGE, ROSECRANS, WITH THE FEDERAL RIGHT AND CENTER, FELL BACK THROUGH ROSSVILLE GAP AND SENT WORD TO THOMAS TO COVER THE RETREAT.

THOUGH ATTACKED ON THREE SIDES, THOMAS STUBBORNLY DEFENDED HIS POSITION BEHIND A LINE OF LOG BREASTWORKS UNTIL NIGHTFALL. THEN HE RETIRED TO THE GAP, WHERE HE HELD THE CONFEDERATES IN CHECK UNTIL ROSECRANS ORDERED HIM TO JOIN THE REST OF THE FEDERAL FORCES IN CHATTANOOGA.

GEN. GEORGE H. THOMAS

GEN THOMAS WAS A VIRGINIAN, AND DURING THE MEXICAN WAR HAD SERVED AS A LIEUTENANT IN A BATTERY OF ARTILLERY, COMMANDED BY BRAXTON BRAGG WHOM HE NOW WAS FIGHTING AT CHICKAMAUGA.

GEN. THOMAS'S GALLANT STAND SAVED ROSECRANS'S ARMY FROM COMPLETE DISASTER AND HE WAS THEREAFTER CALLED "THE ROCK OF CHICKAMAUGA." IN THIS GREAT BATTLE THE LOSS OF THE UNION ARMY IN KILLED, WOUNDED AND CAPTURED, WAS 16,179. THE TOTAL CONFEDERATE LOSS WAS 17,804.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—The stock market was in a turmoil at the beginning of trading today, and the early break of 7 to 16 points in high-priced industrial stocks was Wall Street's first reaction to President Coolidge's withdrawal from the Presidential race. But before the end of the first half-hour sharp rallies in all sections of the market testified to Wall street's confidence in the outlook.

Dupont sustained the widest reaction at the opening, when the stock dropped about 16 points to 280. General Motors, lost 7 points at 222, while representatives like the United States Steel, Union Pacific Railroad, New York Central and American Smelting moved downward 2 to 4 points.

The rally restored about three-quarters of the early losses, and the trend of the whole market at the end of the first hour was distinctly in the direction of higher prices.

THEIR DREAM A REALITY

Ruby Wells, left, and Maude Lee Piland, two little inmates of a crippled children's home at Louisville, Ky., have written a song for Colonel Charles Lindbergh. Now they're going to do something they've dreamed about, sing the words of it to the air hero on his arrival in their city August 8. With them are Stanley Scott, in chair, and Sebron Baker, crippled boys, who have been included in the party. None of the children are able to walk.

VESUVIUS A SPECTACLE AGAIN

In the throes of the worst eruption in 12 years Mount Vesuvius again has been active, hurling tons of incandescent fragments into the air. A huge stream of lava has crept over the edge of the crater, making its way into the "Valley of Hell" toward the Bay of Naples. This photo is of an eruption in 1926.

PEACE AT ANGELUS TEMPLE NOW

Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson, Los Angeles evangelist, and her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, have arranged "peace terms" following a split. An announcement has been issued that "Mrs. Minnie Kennedy will give up active management at Angelus Temple and Mrs. McPherson will assume complete control." Photo above shows Mrs. Kennedy, left, and Mrs. McPherson, in a happy mood.

Roman Candles Force Birds To Move Quickly

Martins, birds somewhat smaller than robins or starlings, sometimes gather in flocks by thousands just before migrating and establish roots within small areas where they become exceedingly obnoxious, says a United States department of agriculture bulletin. The noise and filth they make and the breaking of branches of trees where they roost are very objectionable in residential districts. Although the law forbids shooting martins, it is generally possible to break up their roosts.

Last year the townspeople of Newport, Ark., found themselves suddenly beset by 10,000 or 15,000 of these birds, and at first turned to the police for help in getting rid of them. The police, however, were advised by the Biological Survey of the United States department of agriculture that it was illegal to shoot martins, and suggestions were made for other methods of control. The birds were finally scattered by turning the fire hose on them, by shooting Roman candles thru the trees arter dark and by firing blank black powder shotgun shells. The Roman candles proved especially effective. Other places in Arkansas troubled by objectionable bird roosts were similarly treated.

5 reasons

Why YOU Should Own Your Home

FIRST—You cease paying for the upkeep of another man's property. Money that went to the landlord each month will now be invested in your own dwelling. Owning a home makes you independent.

SECOND—A home with its grounds provides the only proper environment for rearing children. Their playmates are the children of other home-owners. Owning a home makes you a better father.

THIRD—Similarly, you choose your neighbors. Instead of being people you must tolerate, they become friends you want to know. Owning a home brings you friends.

FOURTH—You are afforded the opportunity of living in a truly residential section: trees, lawns and flowers in place of noisy streets. Owning a home brings wholesome surroundings.

FIFTH—Being a landowner, you enter more whole-heartedly into the affairs of your community. Its interests are yours. Owning a home makes you a better citizen.

Youngster Who Had Whistle In Her Throat Dies

CONNEAUT, O., Aug. 3.—Sarah, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sylvester, 403 Bliss avenue, thought to have been well on the road to recovery after an operation for the removal of a tin whistle which had become lodged in her throat, died yesterday.

The little girl swallowed the whistle while at play a week ago. The instrument was so lodged in her throat as to make removal impossible, the surgeons forcing it in to her stomach from where it was extracted. She was apparently recovering when she suffered a relapse. She is survived by three sisters and two brothers as well as he parents.

Rev. Ross Haverfield To Conclude Message Of Special Interest

Rev. Ross M. Haverfield will conclude the exposition on "The Caricature of Christianity" as set forth in his sermon on July 24, in the Westfield Presbyterian church next Sunday at 10:30.

Last Sunday Rev. Haverfield conducted a children's service. About seventy boys and girls were present in seats reserved for them. Thirty two children from the Presbyterian Mission in Bessemer attended. Rev. Haverfield spoke on "Money." He emphasized the right use of money stressing the fact that stewardship should be practiced by every believing Christian.

At the Bible school session at 11:45 further plans will be made for the annual Sunday school picnic which will take place Tuesday, August 9, at Lakewood Beach.

This evening the choir will meet for rehearsal at the church at 8:30.

The session will meet at the home manse at the same hour.

Members of the Tennis Club will enjoy a steak fry on Thursday evening at the home of W. J. Duff. A fine time is anticipated.

Coolidge Decision Hinged On Success Of Naval Conference

(International News Service)

PARIS, Aug. 3.—"Pertinax," political editor of the Echo De Paris, and one of the best known journalists in Europe, today attributed President Coolidge's decision to the apparent failure of the Geneva naval conference.

"President Coolidge counted upon disarmament to dissipate the hesitations and scruples of the voters about giving him a third term," said "Pertinax", "The world of bug business will regret his departure. He was a 'president of tranquility and prosperity.' How many times have we seen popular images of Coolidge qualifying him as God-fearing and a strict observer of the Sabbath? Wall Street will weep for him; so will the churches."

Couzens Favors Hoover Candidacy For Presidency

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 3.—United States Senator James Couzens favors Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, for the Republican presidential nomination in 1928, he declared today.

Couzens expressed surprise at President Coolidge's withdrawal as a presidential possibility.

"I had no intimation," he said, "of such an announcement coming from the summer white house. With President Coolidge out of the running, I would favor Herbert Hoover as the most likely Republican candidate in 1928. Mr. Hoover has unflagging energy, a broad knowledge of the needs of the country, and he also enjoys comparative youth as far as presidential candidates are concerned."

German Aviators Hop Off Today In Endurance Flight

(International News Service)

DESSAU, Germany, Aug. 3.—Air Pilots Von Koehl and Loose, Ristich and Etzard hopped off at 5:10 a. m. and 5:30 a. m. respectively today in two Junker all-metal, 320 horse power monoplanes on an endurance trial between Dessau and Leipzig. These airplanes are intended for flight to the United States.

The four pilots—two to a machine—planned to fly back and fourth between the two cities so long as their fuel held out. Each plane carried two tons of gasoline, which was calculated to be sufficient to bear Clarence D. Chamberlin's record of about 51 hours.
